Reds Being Crushed, U.S., Allies Say

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese officials said today their forces were crushing the biggest Communist offensive of the war with skyrocketing losses to the enemy. But Red troops were reported in control of much of Hue, the ancient imperial capital, and South Vietnamese dive-bombers still roared over the streets of Saigon attacking Viet Cong holdouts.

Associated Press correspondent John Lengel reported from Hue, 50 miles south of the demilitarized zone, that four battalion of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese controlled most of the streets in the coastal city. Lengel said U.S. Marines and infantrymen and South Vietnamese troops were battling more to maintain their positions than to oust the enemy.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu and U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker went on television to assert that the Communists were being defeated with unparalleled losses.

The U.S. Command said 10,553 of the enemy had been killed in the four-day countrywide assaults on the cities and towns of South Vietnam. Allied losses were put at 917 dead and 2,817 wounded, including 231 Americans killed and 1,185 wounded.

Thieu said, "The back of the Viet Cong attack has been broken." He said there is still Communist resistance "in a few provincial capitals . . . but we can consider they have been totally defeated."

"Although the enemy raided numerous cities and towns throughout the republic and achieved some temporary successes, they have failed to take and hold any major installations or localities," said a U.S. communique. "Although some enemy units are still occupying positions in a few cities, they are rapidly being driven out. The allies have detained 3,076 suspects and captured over 1,000 individual and over 300 crew-served weapons."

But as Thieu and Bunker broadcast, South Vietnamese bombers were strafing a block of houses near the racetrack in the southwestern end of Saigon to clear out Communist troops.

Rockets streaked from armed helicopters into other Viet Cong entrenched in a crowded squatter area in a northwestern suburb of the capital.

There was fighting in at least half a dozen other spots in Saigon.

Marauding bands of guerrillas roved the capital's streets, sniping at helicopters approaching the top of the six-story U.S. Embassy building. South Vietnamese rangers caught one group of Viet Cong eating soup at a sidewalk restaurant.

The heavest fighting was reported in the southwestern section of the city around the Buddhist An Quang Pagoda.

Lengel reported the Communists in Hue were attacking with machine guns, mortars and rockets. He said the enemy fire was so intense that two U.S. helicopters were shot down as they tried to run the gantlet to collect wounded.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese held a major part of the old walled citadel, once seat of the Vietnamese emperors but now a pile of ruins, and the headquarters of the South Vietnamese army's 1st Infantry Division.

South Vietnamese troops held a small part of the citadel, while the Americans were fighting from a half-block-square compound housing the U. S. advisory headquarters.

Lengel said refugees had poured into the city, swelling the normal 40,000 population enormously, and civilian casualties from the fighting were believed high. He reported a senior American civilian adviser to the pacification program may have been captured and the fate of nine other American civilians was not known.

"No one really controls Hue," Lengel said. "There are islands of government resistance and islands of Viet Cong strength."

Thieves Get Both Money And Stamps

Inventory Awaited To Determine Loss In Safecracking

Undetermined amounts of money and stamps were taken in a burglary during the night at the Newell Post Office.

John R. Skidmore of 218 Jefferson St., assistant postmaster, who is in charge of the Newell facility, said an inventory of the missing items from a safe, which the burglars cracked, will be made when postal officials arrive from Wheeling.

The burglars entered through a side window at the 5th St. building. They pried open the grating over the window and then removed the bottom portion of glass and casing to gain entrance. Once inside, they used a torch to cut open the safe in a nearby corner.

In their haste to leave, the thieves left behind a crow bar, hammer and flashlight.

A smaller safe near the one in which the money and stamps were kept also was opened, but Skidmore reported there was nothing inside it.

Left untouched in the safe were many social security checks and payroll checks for post office employes there, Skidmore reported, in addition to money orders.

He said he discovered the theft about 7 a.m.

The burglars apparently battered a rear double door first, were unsuccessful and then gained entry through the window.

Skidmore said the loss, while undetermined, is not believed to be great, since the post office does not handle large amounts of money.

The facility closes each day at 4:30 p.m., but Skidmore noted, there was someone in the building until about 6 p. m. Residents in the area reported hearing nothing during the night.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies as well as a trooper from the Weirton Barracks of the state police were on the scene this morning conducting investigations.

Deputies found the thieves also had opened drawers along a row of service windows in an attempt to find more cash. The drawers contained nothing, however.

Pact Calls For Package Of 33 Cents

Details Disclosed Of Chinaware And Union Agreement

A three-year working agreement between six chinaware manufacturers and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters that went into effect Thursday provides a "package" of wage increases and other benefits that is equivalent to almost 33 cents an hour over the life of the contract.

The pact calls for a pay boost of 6 cents hourly in the first year and hikes of 7 cents hourly in the second and third years. The first 6-cent raise went into effect yesterday. The two additional 7-cent boosts will become effective on the anniversary date of the agreement—on Feb. 1, 1969, and Feb. 1, 1970.

The pact affects an estimated 1,400 employes of these firms: The Sterling China Co. and Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville, the Mayer China Co. at Beaver Falls, the Buffalo China Co. at Buffalo, N. Y., the Jackson China Co. of Falls Creek, Pa., and the Walker China Co. at Bedford.

The new agreement calls for what was termed a "major revision" in the health and welfare plan. Details have not yet been placed in final form, but the revision will provide for blanket coverage for all the persons in the bargaining group.

The contract will run through Jan. 31, 1971.

Other major provisions in the new pact are:

Employes with 15 years' service will receive a third week of annual vacation after Feb. 1, 1969.

A seventh paid holiday—the day before Christmas — will go into effect Feb. 1, 1970. The present holidays are New

Seeking Labor Backing For Democrats

LBJ, Meany Open 'Show'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and AFL-CIO President George Meany launched today a political road show aimed at lining up the 14 million-member labor organization behind the Democratic ticket.

They were in back-patting rapport on Vietnam and a wide sweep of domestic programs and problems.

And they were in total agreement Congress should enact job and housing programs, additional education and health measures and, as Johnson put it, "at the same time protect freedom."

Johnson dismissed the idea that domestic problems can't be tackled while the Vietnam conflict rages.

"It's just the same as saying you can take care of one child and you can't take care of the other," he said.

This was in a conversation filmed at the White House Jan. 15, for a premier Saturday in New Orleans and showings from then on at union meetings and regional sessions of labor's Committee on Political Education.

Veteran political rail birds could recall no parallel to the movie.

In it, Johnson and Meany spent considerable time on mutual compliments without ever questioning that the President is going to run for another term and that Meany is going all the way with LBJ on both foreign and domestic policy.

In a bit of political whip cracking at the end, Meany said elections are won back home by leaders of the labor movement and they should start now getting registration drives under way and collecting cash for COPE.

The President nodded appreciatively to labor, mothers and teachers for giving a helping hand with "a massive educational measure" supplemented by more than 20 other education bills.

He also thanked the AFL-CIO for helping to pass the medicare and medicaid bills.

Johnson had 17 kind words for businessmen.

"I am happy to say that the businessmen generally have tried to listen and to be cooperative," the President said.

City Offers Slag At Cost On Muddy, Rutted Streets

Answering requests and complaints from dozens of householders, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today the city will haul and spread slag at cost to aid residents of muddy, rutted unimproved streets turned into quagmires by an early thaw.

Vodry pointed out the same policy has been followed by the street department for several years, offering property owners a low - cost way of getting out of the mud without imposing an impossible financial burden on the city. The city's trucks will haul and spread the slag at the price per ton which the municipality pays at the plant in Midland, he pointed out.

Neighborhood groups usually form an informal organization to buy the slag, taking up a collection to cover the pro rated share of the street which is to be treated, the director said. Neighborhood groups should send a representative to City Hall, who will determine the grade of slag desired, then collect the required funds and make advance payment for the material.

The price per ton varies according to the grade and size of the slag.

The same type of informal neighborhood organization is formed each year for the city's low-cost street - surfacing program.

Vodrey said his office was "swamped with telephone calls" on the condition of unimproved streets Thursday. Many streets were left muddy and rutted by the thawing of a heavy snow and the condition was compounded by intermittent heavy rains yesterday.

The director pointed out the street department does not have sufficient funds to spread a coat of slag for the entire length of every unimproved street. However, it is using slag to fill isolated, large chuckholes, he said. When the complaint proves to be a generally rutted condition, the city does not have resources to pay for scattering slag over long stretches, he said.

Vodrey called the muddy street conditions "unusual—he pointed out the city usually does not encounter such problems until nearer the advent of spring.

40,000 Idled In Spreading Coal Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A strike triggered in the western Pennsylvania coal fields spread through the heart of the nation's coal producing region today, idling 40,000 miners in five states.

A minor disturbance occurred Thursday in Jefferson County when pickets stoned one car and threatened to overturn another at a tipple on Fernwood Rd., near Steubenville. The arrival of deputies averted any further trouble.

The strike began at midnight Sunday when some 15,000 United Mine Workers Union members in Pennsylvania walked out after State Police moved to quell violence at two nonunion mines in Somerset County.

Sympathy strikes by UMW members spread through Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, then moved into Virginia Thursday. Not since the nationwide coal strike of 1966 in which about 80,000 miners were out, have so many been off the job.

UMW President W. A. (Tony) Boyle, reached at his Washington, D. C. headquarters, declined comment on the strike.

UMW officials met in Harrisburg in a day - long session Thursday with state Labor Secretary William J. Hart and representatives of the Solar Fuel Co., owners of the troubled Somerset County mines.

Hood Seeks Renomination

3 More Candidates File For Chester April Ballot

Three candidates have filed with Chester City Clerk Donald Hood, announcing candidacies in the city's partisan primary election April 2. Hood is among the candidates.

Two have announced candidacies seeking two-year terms as Councilman from the 5th Ward now served by Percy Willison.

Melvin Logston of Alba St., a Democrat, has filed, as has Kenneth Williams, 45, of 931 Plutus Ave.

Williams, a Democrat, is seeking public office for the first time, although he has served Chester as an employe of three different departments.

Williams is currently a supply clerk at Globe Refractories at Kennilworth.

He has lived in Chester all his life — 27 years in the 5th Ward. Formerly he was a special policeman for two years, sewage plant operator one year, and served as assistant water superintendent and water plant operator three years.

Williams currently is president of the Chester - Newell Farmers Sportsman's Club.

He is a World War II veteran, and was an amateur and professional boxer in the area in the early '40s.

Hood, elected to the clerk's position two years ago, is a Republican.

Hood of 401 Indiana Ave. is a mathematics teacher at Oak Glen High School. He is married, and has three daughters.

He served in Council 10 years ago as representative from the 4th Ward, and was defeated once in a race for the Mayor's position.

He is a member of Westminster United Presbyterian Church, Lions Club, VFW, American Legion and the West Virginia Education Association.

The filing deadline in Chester is March 2. At stake will be the posts of mayor, clerk and five Council seats. Filing fee for Council is $10, for mayor and clerk $20. Candidates filing for office must reside in the ward they wish to represent if running for Council, and must be property owners.

The city's general election will be June 4. New officials take over July 1.

Four To Face Hearings In School Bus Charges

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set hearings next Thursday for three school bus drivers cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol on charges of driving without special licenses required by state regulations and the school district superintendent of transportation, charged with knowingly permitting the men to operate the vehicles without proper permits.

Not guilty pleas were entered by all the defendants, Howard R. Hinton, 48, of 1021 Claiborne St., Donald A. Ross, 33, of 824 Northside Ave., and Charles R. Weaver, 44, of 121½ W. 6th St., identified as drivers, and the transportation superintendent, Clarence W. O'Hanlon, 48, of Yeager Dr., RD 1.

ALL THE drivers were cited by the patrol shortly after 3 p.m. yesterday on Broadway as they were starting homeward runs with students. The affidavits were signed by Patrolman J. R. Cusick.

When the first case was called this morning, Asst. Solicitor Jackman Vodrey advised the court that he represented all the defendants as counsel for the Board of Education. The court then arraigned the men in a group, taking a "not guilty" plea from each.

Vodrey moved for the continuance, telling the court that the charges were filed under a section of the Ohio Revised Code that cites regulations of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles relating to licensing of school bus drivers. He said he has not had an opportunity to study the regulations referred to in the code.

Solicitor J. Michael Kapp indicated to the court the solicitor's office may not be legally able to prosecute the cases, since it also is counsel to the school board.

SUPT. PAUL Blair said he was under the impression the chauffeur licenses of the three bus drivers were valid for school bus operation.

He said men with just chauffeur licenses have been driving school buses in the district for some time, and had not been challenged before.

Students on the three buses had to wait until other drivers completed their runs and returned for them, or were taken home by motorists who stopped and picked them up.

The three halted buses were being operated today by James McKinnon, a school custodian who holds a valid license, along with Curtis Miller and Paul Allman, who are also licensed.

Ohioville Council Joins In Road Repair Request

Ohioville Council Thursday night went on record on behalf of repairs to Route 168 from Midland to the Ohio state line.

Mrs. Emily Carroll, borough secretary, was instructed to write to the Pennsylvania State Highway Department. Part of the state route is in Ohioville Borough.

Midland Council also has asked the state to begin repairs.

In other action, Mayor Elmer Gifford presented Council a signed petition with a letter drafted to Congressman Frank Clark requesting a post office in the borough.

Copies will be sent to the Beaver County commissioners, Clark and Sen. Hugh Scott.

Gifford's police report for January showed 42 complaints, 16 arrests, 10 auto violations, two violations for being under the influence of alcohol, three house burglaries and one violation of the uniform firearms act.

Bids were received for rock salt, road oil and bituminous materials. The quotations were referred to Daniel C. Baker, borough engineer. George Gailey, road superintendent, said repairs have been completed on the grader and three new tires purchased.

Ballot Bid Accepted For Beaver County

A lone bid of $3,271.50 from the Tribune Printing Co. of Beaver Falls for Beaver County primary election ballots was accepted by the Beaver County commissioners Thursday. The bid is for 125,000 official ballots and 30,000 specimens.

District Atty. Robert Good and his assistants were granted permission to attend the National District Attorney Association and Pennylvania Department of Justice conferences Feb. 13-16 at Harrisburg.

The commissioners will reapply for state funds for the day care and mental health and physical handicapped programs.

A donation of $500 was made to the annual Veterans Day program Nov. 11 and $300 to the musicians' association for a summer program at Brady's Run Park.

Contract

Provisions for funeral leave and jury duty leave are included in the contract, effective immediately.

After Feb. 1, 1969, the employers will contribute an additional half-cent hourly into the Chinaware - IBOP Pension Fund. The contribution will be made for "each clock hour worked." The present contribution by employers is 8 cents hourly.

The contract also calls for revisions in the "job opportunity" and "seniority" sections that means that work opportunities will be available first to the employes with the greatest seniority.

In connection with the revision in the health and welfare plan, the union said the employers will contribute $15 monthly per employe into a fund that will be utilized by the trustees to buy additional coverage.

The rewording of the language on seniority is intended "to provide 40 hours' work a week for all employes or as nearly thereto as possible," the union said.

One of the major accomplishments of the negotiations was a complete redrafting and rewriting of the contract. One provision guarantees piece workers at least their base work rate for each day.

The former contract expired Wednesday midnight. The union and management negotiations opened at the Carlton House in Pittsburgh Jan. 23.

Agreement was reached on Wednesday night. The conferees continued meetings yesterday, working out details of the contract language, and the agreement was signed Thursday night.

ing person report on the Talbert boy says that the Mills and Talbert youths and a third boy who has not been reported missing locally "may be hiding in caves behind the Chester High School or in a cave under the (West Virginia end) of the Newell Bridge."

The Mills boy is 4 feet 2 inches tall, has sandy blond hair and blue eyes and was wearing black trousers, a black jacket and brown shoes.

The Talbert boy is 4 feet 6 inches tall, weighs 90 pounds and has brown hair and blue eyes. He was wearing denim trousers, a long - sleeved tan shirt and a jacket with a knit collar.

ness to engage in face-to-face talks with North Korea aimed at gaining return of the Pueblo and her 83-man crew.

The action followed a broadcast hint by North Korea that a settlement might be possible through new talks at Panmunjom, the Korean War truce site.

— President Johnson said U.S. bombing of North Vietnam will continue until the enemy gives "some better sign" that a halt would not result in stepped-up terrorism and aggression against South Vietnam.

He spoke as the Communists continued widespread assaults against major South Vietnamese cities and U.S. commander Gen. William C. Westmoreland warned the enemy's "main effort" is yet to come.

McCuen was cited Sunday at 1:15 a.m. by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Floyd Maggie, 42, of New Castle forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of driving a truck across the Chester Bridge with a load in excess of the 2½-ton limit decreed by the Ohio Highway Department while it is under repair. Maggie was cited by the patrol Thursday at 5:05 p.m. The patrol said a registration slip shows his truck alone weighs 7,000 pounds.

The court decreed fines of $15 and costs each for Alan H. Buzzard of Lisbon RD 2 and James E. Webber, 18, of Lisbon RD 3, who pleaded guilty to charges of speeding 60 miles an hour in 50-mile zones. Buzzard was cited Wednesday at 6 p.m. on Route 7 and Webber was arrested Jan. 23 at 7:50 p.m. on Route 30, the patrol said.

Robert B. Crawford, 21, of Mingo Junction forfeited $27.50 on a patrol charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Jan. 26 at 11:10 p. m. on Route 30. Gene Henry, 42, of Youngstown was fined $25 and costs after pleading "no contest" on a charge of driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Thursday at 2 p.m. on Route 30.

including the "mill of the future."

National Steel, the country's fourth-ranking steel producer, will add another million tons of steel finishing capacity to its powers in the near future under the development project.

It shipped more than six million tons of steel in 1967, less than its full capacity.

National President George A. Stinson said in addition to the Weirton work the highlights of the new program include:

A second two - vessel basic oxygen steelmaking shop at Great Lakes Division, Detroit, with, additionally, an electric furnace - continuous billet casting facility which will give an initial hot roll to each strand of steel as it merges from the caster.

At Midwest Steel Division, Portage, Ind., a 72-inch galvanizing, sheet shear and coil build-up lines and other facilities built around the high-speed 80-inch cold mill.

Stinson predicted National will be the first of the world's big basic steel makers to produce all its product and modernized plants "with full air-and water-control quality controls."

Herbert Franklin Anderson Sr. of North Fork Rd., Weirton RD 1, was pronounced dead on arrival at Weirton General Hospital at 6:36 p. m. Death was attributed to a head injury.

Police said the accident occurred at a point just past a sign marking the old Route 2.

Driver of the car was Frank John Kepes, 50, of 181 St. John's Rd. He told officers his auto was headed south on County Rd. when he saw the man walking in the same lane of traffic. Hood Seeks Renomination

3 More Candidates File For Chester April Ballot

Three candidates have filed with Chester City Clerk Donald Hood, announcing candidacies in the city's partisan primary election April 2. Hood is among the candidates.

Two have announced candidacies seeking two-year terms as Councilman from the 5th Ward now served by Percy Willison.

Melvin Logston of Alba St., a Democrat, has filed, as has Kenneth Williams, 45, of 931 Plutus Ave.

Williams, a Democrat, is seeking public office for the first time, although he has served Chester as an employe of three different departments.

He has lived in Chester all his life — 27 years in the 5th Ward. Formerly he was a special policeman for two years, sewage plant operator one year, and served as assistant water superintendent and water plant operator three years.

Williams currently is president of the Chester - Newell Farmers Sportsman's Club.

He is a World War II veteran, and was an amateur and professional boxer in the area in the early '40s.

Hood, elected to the clerk's position two years ago, is a Republican.

Hood of 401 Indiana Ave. is a mathematics teacher at Oak Glen High School. He is married, and has three daughters.

He served in Council 10 years ago as representative from the 4th Ward, and was defeated once in a race for the Mayor's position.

He is a member of Westminster United Presbyterian Church, Lions Club, VFW, American Legion and the West Virginia Education Association.

The filing deadline in Chester is March 2. At stake will be the posts of mayor, clerk and five Council seats. Filing fee for Council is $10, for mayor and clerk $20. Candidates filing for office must reside in the ward they wish to represent if running for Council, and must be property owners.

The city's general election will be June 4. New officials take over July 1.

Four To Face Hearings In School Bus Charges

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set hearings next Thursday for three school bus drivers cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol on charges of driving without special licenses required by state regulations and the school district superintendent of transportation, charged with knowingly permitting the men to operate the vehicles without proper permits.

Not guilty pleas were entered by all the defendants, Howard R. Hinton, 48, of 1021 Claiborne St., Donald A. Ross, 33, of 824 Northside Ave., and Charles R. Weaver, 44, of 121½ W. 6th St., identified as drivers, and the transportation superintendent, Clarence W. O'Hanlon, 48, of Yeager Dr., RD 1.

ALL THE drivers were cited by the patrol shortly after 3 p.m. yesterday on Broadway as they were starting homeward runs with students. The affidavits were signed by Patrolman J. R. Cusick.

When the first case was called this morning, Asst. Solicitor Jackman Vodrey advised the court that he represented all the defendants as counsel for the Board of Education. The court then arraigned the men in a group, taking a "not guilty" plea from each.

Vodrey moved for the continuance, telling the court that the charges were filed under a section of the Ohio Revised Code that cites regulations of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles relating to licensing of school bus drivers. He said he has not had an opportunity to study the regulations referred to in the code.

Solicitor J. Michael Kapp indicated to the court the solicitor's office may not be legally able to prosecute the cases, since it also is counsel to the school board.

SUPT. PAUL Blair said he was under the impression the chauffeur licenses of the three bus drivers were valid for school bus operation.

He said men with just chauffeur licenses have been driving school buses in the district for some time, and had not been challenged before.

Students on the three buses had to wait until other drivers completed their runs and returned for them, or were taken home by motorists who stopped and picked them up.

The three halted buses were being operated today by James McKinnon, a school custodian who holds a valid license, along with Curtis Miller and Paul Allman, who are also licensed.

Ohioville Council Joins In Road Repair Request

Ohioville Council Thursday night went on record on behalf of repairs to Route 168 from Midland to the Ohio state line.

Mrs. Emily Carroll, borough secretary, was instructed to write to the Pennsylvania State Highway Department. Part of the state route is in Ohioville Borough.

Midland Council also has asked the state to begin repairs.

In other action, Mayor Elmer Gifford presented Council a signed petition with a letter drafted to Congressman Frank Clark requesting a post office in the borough.

Copies will be sent to the Beaver County commissioners, Clark and Sen. Hugh Scott.

Gifford's police report for January showed 42 complaints, 16 arrests, 10 auto violations, two violations for being under the influence of alcohol, three house burglaries and one violation of the uniform firearms act.

Bids were received for rock salt, road oil and bituminous materials. The quotations were referred to Daniel C. Baker, borough engineer. George Gailey, road superintendent, said repairs have been completed on the grader and three new tires purchased.

Ballot Bid Accepted For Beaver County

A lone bid of $3,271.50 from the Tribune Printing Co. of Beaver Falls for Beaver County primary election ballots was accepted by the Beaver County commissioners Thursday. The bid is for 125,000 official ballots and 30,000 specimens.

District Atty. Robert Good and his assistants were granted permission to attend the National District Attorney Association and Pennylvania Department of Justice conferences Feb. 13-16 at Harrisburg.

The commissioners will reapply for state funds for the day care and mental health and physical handicapped programs.

A donation of $500 was made to the annual Veterans Day program Nov. 11 and $300 to the musicians' association for a summer program at Brady's Run Park.

Contract

Provisions for funeral leave and jury duty leave are included in the contract, effective immediately.

After Feb. 1, 1969, the employers will contribute an additional half-cent hourly into the Chinaware - IBOP Pension Fund. The contribution will be made for "each clock hour worked." The present contribution by employers is 8 cents hourly.

The contract also calls for revisions in the "job opportunity" and "seniority" sections that means that work opportunities will be available first to the employes with the greatest seniority.

In connection with the revision in the health and welfare plan, the union said the employers will contribute $15 monthly per employe into a fund that will be utilized by the trustees to buy additional coverage.

The rewording of the language on seniority is intended "to provide 40 hours' work a week for all employes or as nearly thereto as possible," the union said.

One of the major accomplishments of the negotiations was a complete redrafting and rewriting of the contract. One provision guarantees piece workers at least their base work rate for each day.

The former contract expired Wednesday midnight. The union and management negotiations opened at the Carlton House in Pittsburgh Jan. 23.

Agreement was reached on Wednesday night. The conferees continued meetings yesterday, working out details of the contract language, and the agreement was signed Thursday night.

The action followed a broadcast hint by North Korea that a settlement might be possible through new talks at Panmunjom, the Korean War truce site. — President Johnson said U.S. bombing of North Vietnam will continue until the enemy gives "some better sign" that a halt would not result in stepped-up terrorism and aggression against South Vietnam.

He spoke as the Communists continued widespread assaults against major South Vietnamese cities and U.S. commander Gen. William C. Westmoreland warned the enemy's "main effort" is yet to come.

Fine Of $200 Given Driver In City Court

James Yanker of Allison Park, Pa., was fined $200 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of being in physical control of an auto while under the influence of alcohol.

Yanker, who pleaded "no contest," was taken into custody Thursday at 3:48 p. m. at Washington St. and Broadway by Patrolmen Karl Samples and David Mumaw.

Meanwhile, the court decreed a fine of $20 and costs and a 15-day suspension in the driver's license of Morris M. McCuen, 19, of 1036 Anderson Ave., Wellsville, who pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. McCuen was cited Sunday at 1:15 a.m. by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Floyd Maggie, 42, of New Castle forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of driving a truck across the Chester Bridge with a load in excess of the 2½-ton limit decreed by the Ohio Highway Department while it is under repair. Maggie was cited by the patrol Thursday at 5:05 p.m. The patrol said a registration slip shows his truck alone weighs 7,000 pounds.

Making Most Of The Money

The income tax, which has been the basis for lifting East Liverpool partially out of its financial rut, is proving more popular — and more beneficial as a community resource—across the United States.

The Tax Foundation, Inc., of New York, has released a study which indicates over 12 million Americans live in more than 170 municipalities which have income levies.

In 1960, the research organization points out, about 4.6 million persons were subject to such a municipal tax, or about 11 per cent of the population in the country's larger cities.

The study notes that in cities with income taxes, there appears to be less pressure on property taxes. East Liverpool residents recognize this pattern, for the city's share of the real estate taxes has increased only a small amount, while the income tax provides the major portion of funds which have been required to meet the steadily rising expenses of government services. The majority of real estate tax boosts have, naturally, gone to the schools.

East Liverpool's eight - tenths of a per cent tax during 1967 brought in a total of $336,901, a decline of $9,180 from the 1966 income of $346,081. The drop was due in part to a cutback in the tax on Midland residents working in the city in so far a vain hope of a reciprocation from Midland borough on the tax upon city residents working there.

The city's income tax revenue goes into the general fund, so the actual disbursement of the income revenue cannot be measured in dollars. But the increase in salaries and fringe benefits for city employes, the second phase of the comprehensive plan, various street projects and equipment purchases — all of which have helped improve the city's appearance, service standards, safety and welfare — have been made possible by the funds from the levy.

The municipal income tax continues to be a boon for communities elsewhere. Most of the current income tax cities have fewer than 25,000 inhabitants, but it is becoming a big city phenomenon.

The tax study reports the majority of cities impose a flat rate of 1 per cent on all residents, non - residents and business firms. Only a few have a lower or higher rate for non-residents, or a graduated tax.

Steubenville, which had a six-tenths of a per cent profit and wage tax, this week increased the tax to a full 1 per cent. Officials anticipate the additional $280,000 as a result.

The relative importance of the tax varies from city to city. In 1966, the income tax as a percentage of total taxes ranged from a high of 71 per cent at Columbus to a low of 20 per cent in Pittsburgh.

In East Liverpool, the income tax provides approximately 20 per cent of the total income of the city. Actually, its revenue makes up a much larger proportion of the money used for actual operations.

Meanwhile, the city's real estate tax revenue, based primarily on residential and commercial properties rather than higher yield industrial property, continues to lag.

The income tax, a more general, a more equitable levy for financing vital community programs, has proven itself to most of its former opponents here.

But the present revenue structure of East Liverpool is not meeting all the requirements of a modern city, and the rising costs of operations and the need to start implementing the Comprehensive Plan for significant development of our community is going to take some down-to-earth decisions on financing — and soon.

Filed Until March

Leaden skies and a love for late sleeping eliminated groundhog shadows along Beaver Creek this morning where Fredericktown Phil, the furry forecaster, has been sprawled in his burrow since Oct. 12.

So winter is just about over for the tri-state area, according to the tired old legend which certain Millport weather-watchers term groundhogwash.

In anticipation of patio picnics and tennis within the next few weeks, The Review, grateful to Fredericktown Phil, has filed away a splendid recipe for groundhog pie.

It is filed, however, under March 1968. And if Phil's showoff cousin — Punxsutawney Pete — is correct in predicting six more weeks of winter, the pie recipe will appear here.

Billion-Dollar Proposal

The Johnson administration seems to be considering everything that would hamstring tourists who need to learn more about Europe without laying a finger on the kind who have learned too much.

It doesn't make an iota of sense to tax touring, because a tax would hamper only the schoolteacher and student tourist trade, without causing a raised eyebrow among the jet set and well-to-do.

What would make sense is a limit on how much a tourist could take abroad in U.S. dollars. This would be so low the jet set and the peripatetic wealthy would rather stay home.

But to make European travel attractive to students and teachers, the U.S. government would notify debtor governments in Europe to match their dollars outlays with blocked counterpart funds.

These funds are customarily used by junketeering public officials when they tour abroad on missions of inspection. They constitute money owed to the U.S. government but which cannot be paid because it would cause a balance of payments deficit on the part of the debtor governments.

This would kill two birds with one stone. Or, to put it more constructively, it would revive two birds with one whiff of fresh air.

In an era when everybody is going all-out for more educational uplift, students and teachers wanting to learn where Western civilization came from should be encouraged to visit Europe, especially if part of the cost could be squeezed out of dead-beat debtors.

Isaiah Said It

President Charles De Gaulle of France has approved a new French military strategy calling for "defense" against attack by any nation in the world.

This involves placing nuclear-tipped intercontinental missiles at locations where they will be aimed at all points of the compass. For, as President de Gaulle explains, no one can say what nation will be friend or foe in the future.

Once the French missiles are in place, they will increase the chances of an accidental or impetuous firing of space bombs, with the resultant probability of nuclear war.

The response to France's move must be to work ever more diligently to bring about the prediction of the prophet Isaiah that the peoples of the world "shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Unity In Transportation Industry

The advisability of unity has been explained to transportation industry leaders, but initial response indicates a lack of interest.

Alan S. Boyd, secretary of the U.S. Department of Transportation, says if the present trend continues the transportation system must double its present capacity in the next 13 years.

He cautioned transportation officials that the demand cannot be met under current procedures. He suggested an integrated system with all facets of the industry working together to achieve the balance required to move people, raw materials and products with a minimum of delay.

Breakthroughs have been made in cooperation between land, sea and air transportation systems in recent years. Piggy-backing of truck trailers by railroads is one. The trucking industry has benefitted from increased air freight, because goods are trucked to and from airport terminals.

Secretary Boyd is asking industry leaders to look even further ahead to see the need for a setup that will meet an ever-building demand.

A coordinated system can come only from leaders in the various phases of transportation. They must be able to discern the need for such a system, then work for it.

Competition through the years has built quite a rivalry between various segments — such as between railroads and water carriers.

From the public's viewpoint the choice is simple. Development of the best possible system is in the interest of the companies and the nation.

But old animosities and old concepts are hard to shake. Many industry leaders prefer to quibble about problems arising from competition, rather than beat the drums for unity.

Our high mobile society moves on and is supplied by railways, highways, seaways and airways. It is a complex system. It still will be complex after pettiness and competition-oriented obstructionism between segments is removed.

But it will be more likely to meet public need by coordinating its services than being split by dissension.

Purely Personal Observations

Leap Year used to be a reminder to write something encouraging about calendar reform, but no more. Calendar reform, gun registration and fluoridation are three worthy causes of my era sunk without trace by determined opponents.

Whenever I see a school child wearing a yellow slicker on a rainy morning I remember the fishy odor of my first slicker and how eager I was to have my friends write their names on it, as was the custom in that distant day. It may still be, for all I know.

As names come in for the Twillery pup, I record them. Latest are "Chang" and "Gabardine." The latter requires an explanation. Gabardine is closely related to Twill, see?

A powerful indictment of capital punishment was made on the "Run for Your Life" show depicting the execution of an innocent man 15 minutes before the confession that could have saved his life. Ben Gazzara is a determined opponent of capital punishment.

Something to muse about is how much different the Asiatic war would be if the Vietnamese our side is backing would fight with half the determination and savvy shown by the Vietnamese the Red Chinese and Red Russians are backing.

An optimist feels happy if he survived another winter month without catching something serious. A pessimist looks forward to the next month with dread.

Goldberg's Political Plans

WASHINGTON — While most of the guests who had just finished dinner in the gracious State Dining Room sipped demitasse and champagne — all quite subdued — last Thursday night, Lynda Bird Robb slipped quietly through the East Room. She was barely noticed as she went up to her dad, and embraced him. With his arm around her shoulder they walked while she spoke words of encouragement. Then she left for her Virginia home. The President mixed a bit, applauded an Abe Fortas violin concerto, and left to read cables on l'affaire de Korea.

Victor Riesel

True the Pueblo was on everyone's mind. But so was politics — old politics, which never fades away.

Politics may be the art of the possible. But so is it the science of rumor-mongering. Word had spread that one of the guests, Jim Suffridge, the retiring president of the Retail Clerks International Association (AFL-CIO) soon would become Undersecretary of State, and eventually replace Dean Rusk.

I checked. After all, it was the Retail Clerks' counsel, Chuck Lipsen, who had been advance man for Lyndon Johnson before the Australian trip. But Jim Suffridge scoffed.

Soon a second rumor spread. Big, curly-haired Ed Bennett Williams, president of the Washington Redskins, house counsel to the Teamsters, brilliant criminal lawyer, specialist in constitutional law, would succeed Ambassador Arthur Goldberg at the UN. More checking. More scoffing.

Then came hard fact. Earlier that day, Ambassador Goldberg had told the President he would not choose to quit at this hypertense moment. It is not Arthur Goldberg's way to run from a ship in troubled waters.

AMONG THE SOPHISTICATES who eschew rumor but practice the political arts, there is a feeling that Mr. Goldberg eventually will play a pivotal role in this nation's history.

As they see it, "Arthur" will quit the UN within the year — not out of any sense of frustration, but because his talented artist-wife, Dorothy, is concerned over the sledgehammer impact of those long Security Council nights. But he will remain one of the eminences grise of national politics.

Mr. Goldberg is ambivalent about his career. He does want to return to the Supreme Court.

True, the high bench already has one jurist of the Jewish faith, Abe Fortas. But there were two Jewish justices on the Court between 1932 and 1938 — Louis Brandeis and Benjamin Cardozo. So there is ample precedent, even if one is needed at this late date in 1968.

But he also loves the political game — and has since he apprenticed with Richard Daley in Chicago a long time ago. So there's a feeling he would also like to run for office — but not for a while. He will not take the easily available Democratic-Liberal nomination for the Senate in New York this year. He will not run against his good friend, the liberal Republican Jack Javits.

This will leave a hiatus of two years. By July 1970, Ambassador Goldberg will be eligible to run for governor of New York. He established his residence there in July 1965 when he took over the U.S. Mission to the UN. Thus by 1970 he will have lived in the state for the necessary five years.

He can have the Democratic-Liberal nomination then as swiftly as he can have one today. But no man who has had his spectacular career in and out of labor, in and out of the Judiciary, in and out of service on the presidential level, wants to wind up as a defeated candidate.

Thus he and his friends have on occasion discussed — even at this distance — who the opposition might be. They don't believe it will be Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

THEY DO BELIEVE that Mr. Rockefeller is running hard for the Republican presidential nomination. They do know he has the best, most heavily financed, most efficient political staff in the land.

They believe there is a good chance of a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket. They believe that through such men as Barry Goldwater's running mate, William Miller, former GOP National Chairman, the Rockefeller camp can hold the national convention conservative bloc in line after a few ballots.

But should Mr. Rockefeller lose that bid, or should he get it and be defeated by Mr. Johnson, the in-talk is that "Rocky," at 62 years of age, will not again run for governor. He will have been in the state mansion for 12 years by '70.

Thus it would be Arthur Goldberg, with the Democrats, the Liberals, and virtually the entire labor movement, against a newcomer. Those around the ambassador believe he will win — on his own and because of the undulating waves of modern politics. The Republicans have held the state for three terms now.

Should Mr. Goldberg become governor in '70, he would head the state's powerful delegation to the Democratic National Convention in '72. Then under any decision by the electorate next November, a candidate other than Lyndon Johnson must be named. He could be Hubert Humphrey. He could be Bob Kennedy. He could be a late starter.

But he would have to have the blessing of the New York State delegation. And that could well be in the hands of Arthur Goldberg.

Thus went the conversation of the professional politicos the night the Pueblo almost phased out politics.

Wages-Prices

Everybody here is talking about the $186 billion budget which President Johnson has proposed to Congress. But few people realize that 15 years ago, in 1953, all the items he has just recommended in his budget could have been bought for only $122.4 billion. Going back 23 years, to fiscal year 1945, the same budget would have required a total of $79.8 billion in expenditures. This is what inflation really means.

Even when one subtracts national defense spending and examines merely the social welfare and civilian segment of the new budget, the 1953 amount would have been $83.8 billion for the same volume of expenditures in the nondefense part of the federal government's list of projects which now cost $106 billion.

The effects of rising prices are as noticeable in connection with U.S. Treasury receipts. Thus, approximately $178 billion is being collected from taxes and other sources of revenue by the federal government, but it would have been necessary to collect only $94.4 billion to accomplish the same purpose in 1945 and $140 billion in 1953.

THIS IS another way of saying that the 1968 receipts of $178 billion represent an inflationary cost of $84 billion in comparison with 1945 and $38 billion in comparison with the money paid in 1953 by the general public to the federal government to support its programs.

In current dollars, the new budget constitutes the largest annual outlay in American history. But it is only fair to note that much of the increase over other years is due to the wage-price spiral, which sends up costs. Once inflation starts, of course, it is natural for wage rises to be demanded.

Likewise, Social Security benefits, which originally could cover the major part of the expenses of the aged, no longer are adequate because prices of consumer goods have gone up substantially. Hence, Social Security payments have to be raised periodically to offset some of the upward movement in living costs.

It has often been said that "everybody talks about inflation, but nobody does anything about it." The President and members of Congress are given each year reports from economic experts who tell them "deficit spending" is essential and it doesn't really do any harm to the economy. Thus, the government has been spending more than it has taken in year after year. It will be doing the same thing next year even if the President's proposed tax surcharge is enacted into law.

The theory of government economics should be to raise enough revenues to meet expenditures and not resort to borrowing money, except in emergencies. Government deficits have been large in recent years, and spending has stimulated segments of the economy by creating new demands for certain types of goods and services. Wage levels are high in some industries, but lot in others. Retired people, who have to live on fixed incomes, find it necessary to deprive themselves of many items they normally would be able to afford.

THE HARDSHIPS of inflation are widespread. As long, however, as a considerbale part of the electorate is benefiting from high wages, there is not enough political pressure on the administration in power to force a change in policies until a breakdown occurs.

Inflation in world history has had many tragic results. The time comes when inflation gets out of hand. The monetary unit then depreciates in value so fast that public confidence is lost and panics and recessions ensue. Sometime the price of gold has to be revalued.

All the figures concerning the rapid decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar indicate clearly that the national economy is moving into a dangerous position. But the Democratic party's political leaders believe the present "boom" will continue at least until after the November elections.

Exactly what will happen to the economy after that time is not easy to foretell, but the dollar will steadily diminish in value unless wage and price controls are imposed by law and deficit spending is discontinued.

Making Most Of The Money

The income tax, which has been the basis for lifting East Liverpool partially out of its financial rut, is proving more popular — and more beneficial as a community resource—across the United States.

The Tax Foundation, Inc., of New York, has released a study which indicates over 18 million Americans live in more than 170 municipalities which have income levies.

In 1950, the research organization points out, about 4.6 million persons were subject to such a municipal tax, or about 11 per cent of the population in the country's larger cities.

The study notes that in cities with income taxes, there appears to be less pressure on property taxes. East Liverpool residents recognize this pattern, for the city's share of the real estate taxes has increased only a small amount, while the income tax provides the major portion of funds which have been required to meet the steadily rising expenses of government services. The majority of real estate tax boosts have, naturally, gone to the schools.

East Liverpool's eight - tenths of a per cent tax during 1967 brought in a total of $336,901, a decline of $9,150 from the 1966 income of $346,061. The drop was due in part to a cutback in the tax on Midland residents working in the city in so far a vain hope of a reciprocation from Midland borough on the tax upon city residents working there.

The city's income tax revenue goes into the general fund, so the actual disbursement of the income revenue cannot be measured in dollars. But the increase in salaries and fringe benefits for city employes, the second phase of the comprehensive plan, various street projects and equipment purchases — all of which have helped improve the city's appearance, service standards, safety and welfare — have been made possible by the funds from the levy.

The municipal income tax continues to be a boon for communities elsewhere. Most of the current income tax cities have fewer than 25,000 inhabitants, but it is becoming a big city phenomenon.

The tax study reports the majority of cities impose a flat rate of 1 per cent on all residents, non - residents and business firms. Only a few have a lower or higher rate for non-residents, or a graduated tax.

Steubenville, which had a six-tenths of a per cent profit and wage tax, this week increased the tax to a full 1 per cent. Officials anticipate the additional $290,000 as a result.

The relative importance of the tax varies from city to city. In 1966, the income tax as a percentage of total taxes ranged from a high of 71 per cent at Columbus to a low of 20 per cent in Pittsburgh.

In East Liverpool, the income tax provides approximately 20 per cent of the total income of the city. Actually, its revenue makes up a much larger proportion of the money used for actual operations.

Meanwhile, the city's real estate tax revenue, based primarily on residential and commercial properties rather than higher yield industrial property, continues to lag.

The income tax, a more general, a more equitable levy for financing vital community programs, has proven itself to most of its former opponents here.

But the present revenue structure of East Liverpool is not meeting all the requirements of a modern city, and the rising costs of operations and the need to start implementing the Comprehensive Plan for significant development of our community is going to take some down-to-earth decisions on financing — and soon.

Filed Until March

Leaden skies and a love for late sleeping eliminated groundhog shadows along Beaver Creek this morning where Fredericktown Phil, the furry forecaster, has been sprawled in his burrow since Oct. 12.

So winter is just about over for the tri-state area, according to the tired old legend which certain Millport weather-watchers term groundhogwash.

In anticipation of patio picnics and tennis within the next few weeks, The Review, grateful to Fredericktown Phil, has filed away a splendid recipe for groundhog pie.

It is filed, however, under March 1968. And if Phil's showoff cousin — Punxsutawney Pete — is correct in predicting six more weeks of winter, the pie recipe will appear here.

Billion-Dollar Proposal

The Johnson administration seems to be considering everything that would hamstring tourists who need to learn more about Europe without laying a finger on the kind who have learned too much.

It doesn't make an iota of sense to tax touring, because a tax would hamper only the schoolteacher and student tourist trade, without causing a raised eyebrow among the jet set and well-to-do.

What would make sense is a limit on how much a tourist could take abroad in U.S. dollars. This would be so low the jet set and the peripatetic wealthy would rather stay home.

But to make European travel attractive to students and teachers, the U.S. government would notify debtor governments in Europe to match their dollars outlays with blocked counterpart funds.

These funds are customarily used by junketeering public officials when they tour abroad on missions of inspection. They constitute money owed to the U.S. government but which cannot be paid because it would cause a balance of payments deficit on the part of the debtor governments.

This would kill two birds with one stone. Or, to put it more constructively, it would revive two birds with one whiff of fresh air.

In an era when everybody is going all-out for more educational uplift, students and teachers wanting to learn where Western civilization came from should be encouraged to visit Europe, especially if part of the cost could be squeezed out of dead-beat debtors.

Isaiah Said It

President Charles De Gaulle of France has approved a new French military strategy calling for "defense" against attack by any nation in the world.

This involves placing nuclear-tipped intercontinental missiles at locations where they will be aimed at all points of the compass. For, as President de Gaulle explains, no one can say what nation will be friend or foe in the future.

Once the French missiles are in place, they will increase the chances of an accidental or impetuous firing of space bombs, with the resultant probability of nuclear war.

The response to France's move must be to work ever more diligently to bring about the prediction of the prophet Isaiah that the peoples of the world "shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Unity In Transportation Industry

The advisability of unity has been explained to transportation industry leaders, but initial response indicates a lack of interest.

Alan S. Boyd, secretary of the U.S. Department of Transportation, says if the present trend continues the transportation system must double its present capacity in the next 13 years.

He cautioned transportation officials that the demand cannot be met under current procedures. He suggested an integrated system with all facets of the industry working together to achieve the balance required to move people, raw materials and products with a minimum of delay.

Breakthroughs have been made in cooperation between land, sea and air transportation systems in recent years. Piggy-backing of truck trailers by railroads is one. The trucking industry has benefitted from increased air freight, because goods are trucked to and from airport terminals.

Secretary Boyd is asking industry leaders to look even further ahead to see the need for a setup that will meet an ever-building demand.

A coordinated system can come only from leaders in the various phases of transportation. They must be able to discern the need for such a system, then work for it.

Competition through the years has built quite a rivalry between various segments — such as between railroads and water carriers.

From the public's viewpoint the choice is simple. Development of the best possible system is in the interest of the companies and the nation.

But old animosities and old concepts are hard to shake. Many industry leaders prefer to quibble about problems arising from competition, rather than beat the drums for unity.

Our high mobile society moves on and is supplied by railways, highways, seaways and airways. It is a complex system. It still will be complex after pettiness and competition-oriented obstructionism between segments is removed.

But it will be more likely to meet public need by coordinating its services than being split by dissension.

Purely Personal Observations

Leap Year used to be a reminder to write something encouraging about calendar reform, but no more. Calendar reform, gun registration and fluoridation are three worthy causes of my era sunk without trace by determined opponents.

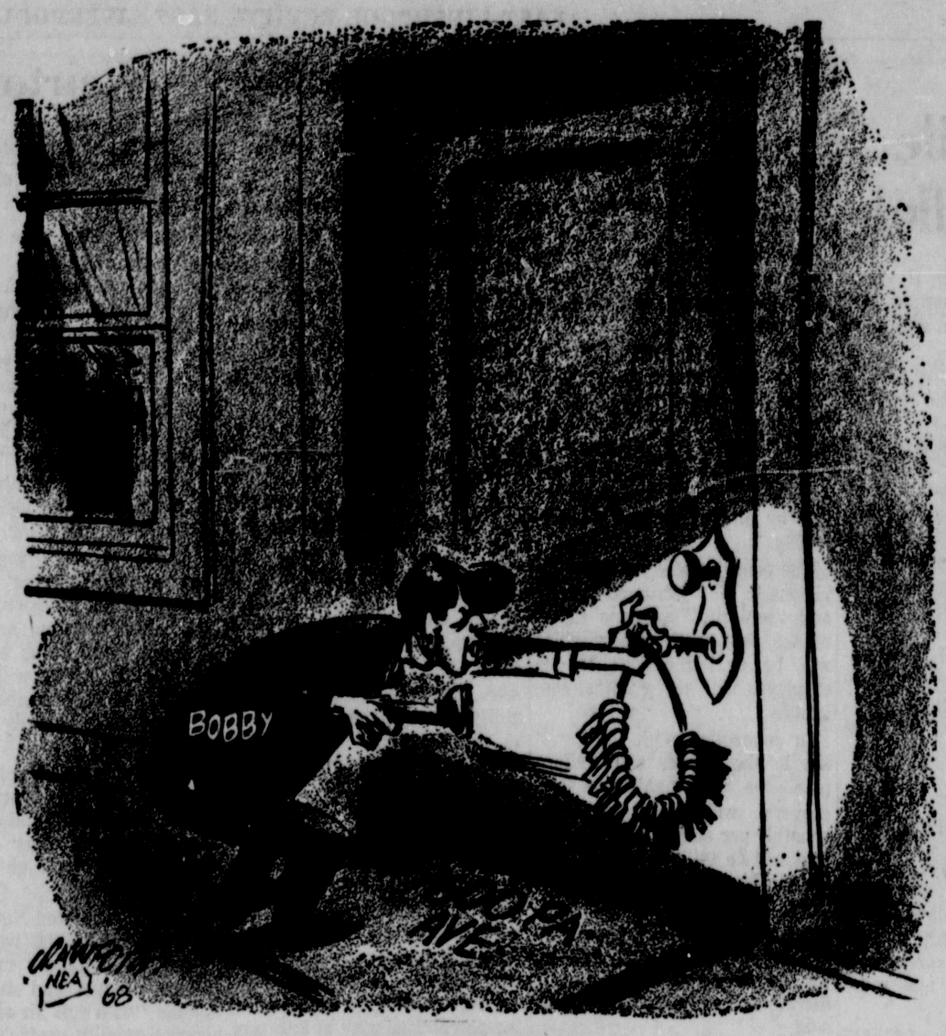

Whenever I see a school child wearing a yellow slicker on a rainy morning I remember the fishy odor of my first slicker and how eager I was to have my friends write their names on it, as was the custom in that distant day. It may still be, for all I know.

As names come in for the Twillery pup, I record them. Latest are "Chang" and "Gabardine." The latter requires an explanation. Gabardine is closely related to Twill, see?

A powerful indictment of capital punishment was made on the "Run for Your Life" show depicting the execution of an innocent man 15 minutes before the confession that could have saved his life. Ben Gazzara is a determined opponent of capital punishment.

Something to muse about is how much different the Asiatic war would be if the Vietnamese our side is backing would fight with half the determination and savvy shown by the Vietnamese the Red Chinese and Red Russians are backing.

An optimist feels happy if he survived another winter month without catching something serious. A pessimist looks forward to the next month with dread.

Wages-Prices

Everybody here is talking about the $186 billion budget which President Johnson has proposed to Congress. But few people realize that 15 years ago, in 1953, all the items he has just recommended in his budget could have been bought for only $122.4 billion. Going back 23 years, to fiscal year 1945, the same budget would have required a total of $79.8 billion in expenditures. This is what inflation really means.

Thus, approximately $178 billion is being collected from taxes and other sources of revenue by the federal government, but it would have been necessary to collect only $94.4 billion to accomplish the same purpose in 1945 and $140 billion in '953.

THIS IS another way of saying that the 1968 receipts of $178 billion represent an inflationary cost of $84 billion in comparison with 1945 and $38 billion in comparison with the money paid in 1953 by the general public to the federal government to support its programs.

In current dollars, the new budget constitutes the largest annual outlay in American history. But it is only fair to note that much of the increase over other years is due to the wage-price spiral, which sends up costs. Once inflation starts, of course, it is natural for wage rises to be demanded.

Valentine gift for the girl who has everything but a place to put it.

If she has just about everything a girl could want (and just about everything you could want in a girl), there's only one thing to give her for Valentine's Day. A Lane Sweetheart Chest. Because there isn't a girl alive who wouldn't get the message.

And it's not just the most romantic thing in the world. It's practically the most practical. Because a Lane Cedar Chest is the best protection those great things of hers could have.

And there's no problem finding one she'll flip over. Because you can get contemporary, Mediterranean design, Early American, dozens of styles. Some conventional, some with base drawers, some with upholstered tops.

One thing, though. Four out of every five girls who get a Lane Sweetheart Chest from their boy friends get married within a year.

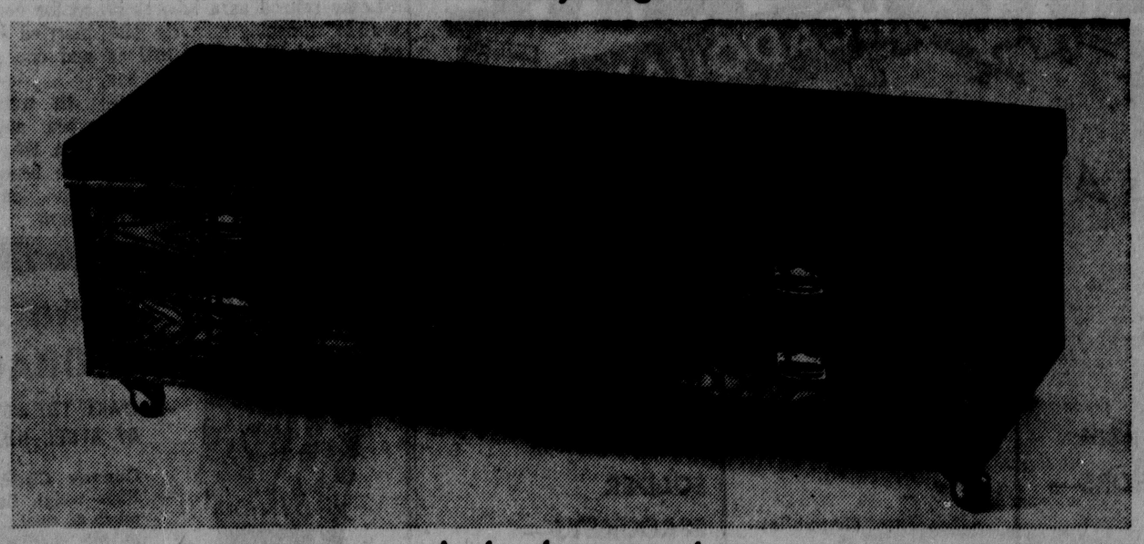

So make sure you know what you're doing.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Documentaries Need Overhaul

Are TV documentaries getting stale? Stuart Schulberg, who has been producing documentaries for NBC the past seven years, believes they are. Many viewers will agree with him, too.

Hal Humphrey

"Our techniques are the same all of the time. We're too encyclopedic and interested in striking a synthetic balance which vitiates the strength and energy of many of our documentaries," says Schulberg.

-:-

"THERE ALSO is the tendency of the networks to do the same stories. We all did air pollution the same season and went to the same places. Then we drop it. We don't stay with a story or come back to see what's happening, if anything," Schulberg adds.

He's in Hollywood doing his third show on Watts and the Watts Writers Workshop founded by his brother, author Budd Schulberg, following the 1965 riot.

The first was "The Angry Voices of Watts" in which members of the workshop presented their work — poetry and playlets. The second was not a documentary study but a play ("Losers Weepers") which was part of NBC's "Experiment in Television" series on Sunday afternoons last season.

The third program, "The New Voices of Watts," will air sometime in March as part of "Experiment in Television's" second season. It includes poetry, a look at the drama workshop (part of the Writers Workshop) and the dramatization by Harley Mims of a chapter from a book of memoirs by Birdell Chew.

"I AM KIND of amazed to be doing our third Watts show at all," says Schulberg, who never looks for commercial TV to be this dedicated to anything which does not wind up in the Top 10-rated shows.

It is too bad that only one of these Watts programs was put on the air in prime time instead of in the Sunday "ghetto" hours. When TV does have the courage to put something different on the air, it often backs away by hiding it from most viewers.

Schulberg's "Losers Weepers" by Watts writer Harry Dolan was as good a drama as was seen on all of TV last season, yet it didn't even get an Emmy nomination from the TV Academy, no doubt because its members aren't watching Sunday afternoons either.

"EVEN SO," says Schulberg, "that drama received a thousand letters from viewers, which I was told at NBC was the second largest mail-pull of any dramatic program they've had on the network. I think it behooved our TV Academy members to find time to see it."

Back to the problem of staleness overcoming so many of TV's documentaries, Schulberg says he and his colleagues in the field must find new fresh forms. He would prefer to have a regular series of documentaries, rather than do just four or five a season.

"A producer can risk failure and recoup the following week when he has a series, but doing only four or five a year makes him self-conscious and conservative about each one. Also, with just a few each season, one tends to leave out subjects on the manners and art of mankind and deal strictly with the big cultural things," explains Schulberg.

HE WAS ASSOCIATED with the late Ted Yates in 1962-63 in producing the David Brinkley Journal weekly on NBC, and that was as fine a documentary series as ever hit TV. Brinkley had to give up on it, however, when NBC expanded the Huntley-Brinkley 15-minute news to a half-hour to match CBS' Walter Cronkite.

CBS has the only regular weekly documentary in prime time now on Tuesday nights, but it no longer is under the separate aegis it once was when Fred Friendly headed up CBS Reports.

It was absorbed by the CBS News division, and some of the old "CBS Reports" producers remain, but the esprit de corps isn't the same, and the programs they put out now prove it, for the most part.

Center Eyes New Site For Starting CAC Programs

Plans to seek another site for the new Community Resources Center were made at a meeting of the steering committee of the center Thursday night at the former Salvation Army building.

The former Citadel had been chosen for the site of the Center, designed to provide local programs under the Columbiana County Community Action Committee, but the need for a major water line repair and other unexpected expenses have presented a financial problem.

The Rev. John Skelbred, director, suggested two other sites, which are to be inspected by a group from the steering committee.

Other programs were discussed during business conducted by Alono Spencer, chairman.

Arrangements were made to meet with a representative of the Youngstown CAC operation to learn of policies and practices in Mahoning County.

The committee will meet again Thursday night at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, where the center office will be located temporarily until another location is obtained.

A 53-year-old East End man escaped injury early Thursday night as his brakeless auto flipped onto its side in a small creek that parallels Park Way in the Beechwood area, police reported.

The mishap damaged the right front and side of a 1962 sedan operated by Clyde Christian of 1194 Erie St. It was timed at 5:56.

Christian told police he was driving south on Park Way and preparing to turn into Broad St. when he discovered his brakes had failed. Low Down Payment - Many Months To Pay

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Documentaries Need Overhaul

Are TV documentaries getting stale? Stuart Schulberg, who has been producing documentaries for NBC the past seven years, believes they are. Many viewers will agree with him, too.

Hal Humphrey

"Our techniques are the same all of the time. We're too encyclopedic and interested in striking a synthetic balance which vitiates the strength and energy of many of our documentaries," says Schulberg.

-:-

"THERE ALSO is the tendency of the networks to do the same stories. We all did air pollution the same season and went to the same places. Then we drop it. We don't stay with a story or come back to see what's happening, if anything," Schulberg adds.

He's in Hollywood doing his third show on Watts and the Watts Writers Workshop founded by his brother, author Budd Schulberg, following the 1965 riot.

The first was "The Angry Voices of Watts" in which members of the workshop presented their work — poetry and playlets. The second was not a documentary study but a play ("Losers Weepers") which was part of NBC's "Experiment in Television" series on Sunday afternoons last season.

The third program, "The New Voices of Watts," will air sometime in March as part of "Experiment in Television's" second season. It includes poetry, a look at the drama workshop (part of the Writers Workshop) and the dramatization by Harley Mims of a chapter from a book of memoirs by Birdell Chew.

"I AM KIND of amazed to be doing our third Watts show at all," says Schulberg, who never looks for commercial TV to be this dedicated to anything which does not wind up in the Top 10-rated shows.

It is too bad that only one of these Watts programs was put on the air in prime time instead of in the Sunday "ghetto" hours. When TV does have the courage to put something different on the air, it often backs away by hiding it from most viewers.

Schulberg's "Losers Weepers" by Watts writer Harry Dolan was as good a drama as was seen on all of TV last season, yet it didn't even get an Emmy nomination from the TV Academy, no doubt because its members aren't watching Sunday afternoons either.

"EVEN SO," says Schulberg, "that drama received a thousand letters from viewers, which I was told at NBC was the second largest mail-pull of any dramatic program they've had on the network. I think it behooved our TV Academy members to find time to see it."

Back to the problem of staleness overcoming so many of TV's documentaries, Schulberg says he and his colleagues in the field must find new fresh forms. He would prefer to have a regular series of documentaries, rather than do just four or five a season.

"A producer can risk failure and recoup the following week when he has a series, but doing only four or five a year makes him self-conscious and conservative about each one. Also, with just a few each season, one tends to leave out subjects on the manners and art of mankind and deal strictly with the big cultural things," explains Schulberg.

HE WAS ASSOCIATED with the late Ted Yates in 1962-63 in producing the David Brinkley Journal weekly on NBC, and that was as fine a documentary series as ever hit TV. Brinkley had to give up on it, however, when NBC expanded the Huntley-Brnkley 15-minute news to a half-hour to match CBS' Walter Cronkite.

CBS has the only regular weekly documentary in prime time now on Tuesday nights, but it no longer is under the separate aegis it once was when Fred Friendly headed up CBS Reports.

It was absorbed by the CBS News division, and some of the old "CBS Reports" producers remain, but the esprit de corps isn't the same, and the programs they put out now prove it, for the most part.

Center Eyes New Site For Starting CAC Programs

Plans to seek another site for the new Community Resources Center were made at a meeting of the steering committee of the center Thursday night at the former Salvation Army building.

The former Citadel had been chosen for the site of the Center, designed to provide local programs under the Columbiana County Community Action Committee, but the need for a major water line repair and other unexpected expenses have presented a financial problem.

The Rev. John Skelbred, director, suggested two other sites, which are to be inspected by a group from the steering committee.

Other programs were discussed during business conducted by Alono Spencer, chairman.

Arrangements were made to meet with a representative of the Youngstown CAC operation to learn of policies and practices in Mahoning County.

The committee will meet again Thursday night at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, where the center office will be located temporarily until another location is obtained.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the woman who wrote about her 17-year-old stepson who was sent to prison. She said, "His life is ruined."

Will you please tell her, Ann, that his life is NOT ruined. It might be just beginning. I know another boy who was sent to the state penitentiary in —— (please don't name it) when he was 17. He was a wild, incorrigible hoodlum, and had been in trouble several times.

The prison sentence changed his life. He was put to work cutting trees in a government forest. It was the first honest labor he'd ever done — and he loved it.

He decided to learn all he could about forestry and he soaked up knowledge like a blotter. By the time he'd finished serving his time he had become an authority. This accomplishment gave him self-respect and a purpose in life which he never had before.

That was 20 years ago. Today the "wild, incorrigible hoodlum" is one of the leading conservationists in the country. Few people know of his background, but I think his story is worth repeating. It might give hope to others. — HIS AUNT.

Dear Aunt: I'm sorry you asked me not to name the prison because that institution deserves praise. Too many reformatories and penal institutions concentrate on punishing inmates instead of rehabilitating them.

The goal should not be retaliation but training and teaching prisoners to make an honest living so that when they leave prison they can be law-abiding citizens.

Ready To Go

Dear Ann: Two and a half years ago I divorced my husband. My children are now 5 and 7 years of age. I have not dated because I haven't felt emotionally ready, but now that I've recovered from the traumatic experience of divorce I want to go out with men.

How does a mother explain to her young children that Mommy is dating? I want their lives to be better than mine has been and I don't want to give them any wrong ideas. — A BRIGHTER TOMORROW.

Dear Brighter: A divorced woman has the right to go out with friends — male and female — so why be defensive?

Make it a point to treat all male companions as casual friends in the presence of your children. Keep any hint of a romance out of the picture until you become genuinely serious — which I hope will not occur for quite some time.

Child Bride

Dear Ann: Does a wife have the right to ask her husband where he's going when he leaves the house after supper? Does she have the right to ask him where he's been when he comes home at 2:30 in the morning with liquor on his breath and lipstick on his shirt?

Lennie and I have been married for less than a year and I'm expecting a baby soon. I thought our love was bigger than anything we might come up against.

I quit high school to marry Lennie. He's 19 and I'm 16 but today I feel like 80. The minister who married us tried to talk us out of it but we wouldn't listen. I'm beginning to see his point. Please tell me what to do. — OLD AT 16.

Dear Old: A fine how-do-you-do and another good example of kids who don't know any more about the responsibilities of marriage than a hog knows about Sunday.

Go back to the minister who married you and ask for his help. If he suggests counseling, take his advice this time. You and Lennie need to cram about 10 years of growing up into the next six months. Good luck.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Beaver Faces Definite Hike In Tax Rates

Beaver County residents definitely face a tax increase. The amount probably will be revealed within a month.

Midland Mayor Eli Corak, a county commissioner, announced at the annual Midland Chamber of Commerce dinner Wednesday night the increase is a "must."

The commissioners are working on the budget and Corak said there is no way to avoid the hike.

Corak said he had some "good news and bad news." He then stated Midland borough will not face a tax increase, but it is coming for the county.

Commissioners earlier indicated there would be a hike, but have never presented a definite figure.

Corak said the commissioners worked four and a half hours on the budget Wednesday. The increase apparently is due to the additional operating money needed for the Beaver County Home and Hospital.

He said he would not attempt to offer any figures, but "if they shock me, I'm sure they would shock you."

After the dinner, Corak said in answer to a question, the budget should be ready for public inspection by the end of February.

In speaking of Midland, he said he was not talking for the school district. He said Midland is one of the few communities in Pennsylvania that only has two taxes, real estate and wage taxes, for income. Others have four, five or six, he commented.

He said the Midland team which won the Pennsylvania state championship in 1965 was the best high school team he has ever seen, and was similar to the current East Liverpool team in the capacity of working as a unit.

Ed Maloney, membership chairman, introduced Frank Bosco, a new member. Ronald Mason presided.

Change Set In Medical Deductions

EDITOR'S NOTE — There have been some changes in filing income tax returns in the rules on deductions for medical expenses. The following, last in a series of five articles on procedures for filing income tax returns, explains some of those changes.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Examine your deductible personal expenses when you make out your tax return on 1967 income.

For many people the standard deduction which the government allows everyone filing a return more than covers their deductible expenses.

If yours exceed the standard deduction, you can claim them in full but then you'll have to itemize them to prove you had them. In this case you must use Form 1040 and figure your own tax.

There have been some changes in the rules on deductions for medical expenses.

In their 1966 returns people 65 or older could deduct their medical expenses in full. Not any longer. In their returns on 1967 income they have been put under the same rules as those applying to people under 65.

(Note: There used to be a limit on the total amount anyone could deduct for medical expenses. No longer. There's no limit now.)

—:—

BUT HERE are the rules, although before you start remember you must not include in your medical expenses those for which you have been reimbursed: 1. You can deduct one-half the cost of your medical insurance up to a limit of $150, whether or not you have any other deductible medical expenses. (But when you claim medical deductions you must itemize them and cannot use the standard deduction.)

2. Then if you have other deductible medical expenses you must figure the cost of medicines and drugs separately from the cost of medical care itself.

3. First—add up your medicine—drugs costs. Then, from that total, subtract 1 per cent of your income on Page 1, Line 9, Form 1040. What's left is deductible—but not quite.

4. You then add this medicine-drugs deductible to the cost of your medical care, including the rest of the cost of your medical insurance. (See No. 1 above on the cost of the first half of the medical insurance).

5. You now have the total medical cost deductible. But you can't deduct that in full or perhaps even at all. You can deduct only that part of the total medical cost that exceeds 3 per cent of your income on Page 1, Line 9, Form 1040.

Note this: If you are 65 or over you can deduct nothing for the hospitalization part of the government's medicare program. But if you made monthly payments for the second or supplemental part of that program —medical treatment—you can deduct in full for that. The cost in 1967 was about $3 a month.

Here are some other personal expenses you can deduct:

STATE AND local sales taxes. At least 44 states and the District of Columbia have such taxes. The instruction pamphlet sent all taxpayers by the Internal Revenue Service lists those states and how much tax you can reasonably deduct.

You can deduct for state gasoline taxes, but not federal, and here again in the IRS pamphlet you'll find a list of the states and their gasoline taxes per gallon.

You can deduct personal property and real estate taxes; interest on your personal loan or house mortgage and the interest on delinquent taxes and personal property bought on the installment plan.

You can deduct for contributions to charitable, religious or educational organizations, such as the Community Chest, Salvation Army, churches, Red Cross, heart and cancer associations, tuberculosis societies, and gifts, but not dues, to the YMCA, YWCA, YMHA, YWHA, the VFW, the American Legion, and CARE.

You can deduct for union dues and dues to professional societies, alimony payments by the person making them, fees to employment agencies, and books and newspapers bought for use in your profession.

You can deduct expenses for your education if it was to help or improve you in keeping up with the skills required on your present job or to meet your employer's express requirements for keeping your salary.

YOU CAN'T deduct if the education was for personal reasons or to help you get a better job.

You can deduct state and local income taxes, but not federal income taxes. You can also deduct losses on property such as your home, clothing, or automobile destroyed or damaged by fire; property, including cash, stolen from you; the cost of business entertainment.

Here are some expenses you can't deduct:

Travel to and from work; entertaining friends; bribes and illegal payments; losses on property lost in storage or transit; losses on damage by rust, erosion, or deterioration.

You cannot deduct gifts to relatives, friends or other individuals or to political organizations or candidates or to social clubs, labor unions, a chamber of commerce or to propaganda organizations.

You cannot deduct federal Social Security taxes withheld from your pay or Social Security payments you make for someone working in your home, like a maid; auto licenses, unless based on the value of the car.

You cannot deduct the federal tax on telephone calls or the tax on plane fares.

You cannot deduct for marriage license fees, fishing or hunting licenses, dog licenses, federal estate, inheritance or gift taxes, or the self-employment tax you pay on earnings from self-employment.

The list of deductible and nondeductible expenses is too long to be included here in full.

In addition to the IRS pamphlet, you can get a lot of help in all directions from the government's 160-page booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax," which costs 50 cents at an IRS office or from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., 20402.

W.Va. Delegate Hurls Charge Of 'Dummy' Firm

CHARLESTON — More than $800,000 of state funds has been poured into a dummy corporation involving high state officials, Del. Russell L. Davisson, R-Kanawha, charged Tuesday.

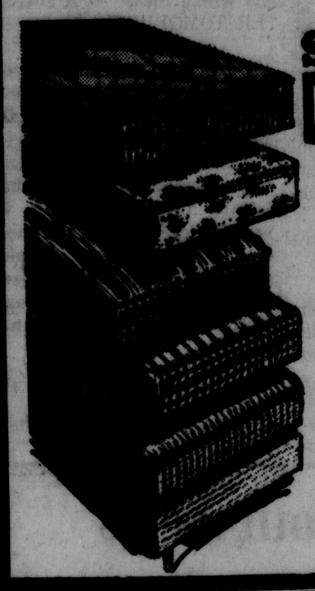

In a speech on the West Virginia House floor, Davisson said that the Buckhannon Brokerage Co. had received more than $847,000 from the state since 1962. Davisson said the firm was a "nonexistent dummy corporation."

He also charged that Paul Crabtree, executive assistant to Gov. Hulett C. Smith, and Truman Gore, director of the Department of Finance and Administration, exerted "considerable pressure" in regards to a check bearing a vendor number indicating it was for payments to the Buckhannon firm.

According to Davisson, the $35,175 check was handed over to ex-Gov. W. W. Barron and Elkins Attorney Bonn Brown by the state mental health department following the intervention of Crabtree and Gore.

Crabtree said Davisson's remarks were "an outright falsehood."

The Vietnamese capitals, Hanoi and Saigon, are almost as far apart as Boston, Mass., and Charleston, S.C.

Change Set In Medical Deductions

EDITOR'S NOTE — There have been some changes in filing income tax returns in the rules on deductions for medical expenses. The following, last in a series of five articles on procedures for filing income tax returns, explains some of these changes.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Examine your deductible personal expenses when you make out your tax return on 1967 income.

For many people the standard deduction which the government allows everyone filing a return more than covers their deductible expenses.

If yours exceed the standard deduction, you can claim them in full but then you'll have to itemize them to prove you had them. In this case you must use Form 1040 and figure your own tax.

There have been some changes in the rules on deductions for medical expenses.

In their 1966 returns people 65 or older could deduct their medical expenses in full. Not any longer. In their returns on 1967 income they have been put under the same rules as those applying to people under 65.

(Note: There used to be a limit on the total amount anyone could deduct for medical expenses. No longer. There's no limit now.)

BUT HERE are the rules, although before you start remember you must not include in your medical expenses those for which you have been reimbursed: 1. You can deduct one-half the cost of your medical insurance up to a limit of $150, whether or not you have any other deductible medical expenses. (But when you claim medical deductions you must itemize them and cannot use the standard deduction.)

2. Then if you have other deductible medical expenses you must figure the cost of medicines and drugs separately from the cost of medical care itself.

3. First—add up your medicine—drugs costs. Then, from that total, subtract 1 per cent of your income on Page 1, Line 9, Form 1040. What's left is deductible—but not quite.

4. You then add this medicine-drugs deductible to the cost of your medical care, including the rest of the cost of your medical insurance. (See No. 1 above on the cost of the first half of the medical insurance).

5. You now have the total medical cost deductible. But you can't deduct that in full or perhaps even at all. You can deduct only that part of the total medical cost that exceeds 3 per cent of your income on Page 1, Line 9, Form 1040.

Note this: If you are 65 or over you can deduct nothing for the hospitalization part of the government's medicare program. But if you made monthly payments for the second or supplemental part of that program —medical treatment—you can deduct in full for that. The cost in 1967 was about $3 a month.

STATE AND local sales taxes. At least 44 states and the District of Columbia have such taxes. The instruction pamphlet sent all taxpayers by the Internal Revenue Service lists those states and how much tax you can reasonably deduct.

You can deduct for state gasoline taxes, but not federal, and here again in the IRS pamphlet you'll find a list of the states and their gasoline taxes per gallon.

You can deduct personal property and real estate taxes; interest on your personal loan or house mortgage and the interest on delinquent taxes and personal property bought on the installment plan.

You can deduct for contributions to charitable, religious or educational organizations, such as the Community Chest, Salvation Army, churches, Red Cross, heart and cancer associations, tuberculosis societies, and gifts, but not dues, to the YMCA, YWCA, YMHA, YWHA, the VFW, the American Legion, and CARE.

You can deduct for union dues and dues to professional societies, alimony payments by the person making them, fees to employment agencies, and books and newspapers bought for use in your profession.

You can deduct expenses for your education if it was to help or improve you in keeping up with the skills required on your present job or to meet your employer's express requirements for keeping your salary.

YOU CAN'T deduct if the education was for personal reasons or to help you get a better job.

You can deduct state and local income taxes, but not federal income taxes. You can also deduct losses on property such as your home, clothing, or automobile destroyed or damaged by fire; property, including cash, stolen from you; the cost of business entertainment.

Here are some expenses you can't deduct:

Travel to and from work; entertaining friends; bribes and illegal payments; losses on property lost in storage or transit; losses on damage by rust, erosion, or deterioration.

You cannot deduct gifts to relatives, friends or other individuals or to political organizations or candidates or to social clubs, labor unions, a chamber of commerce or to propaganda organizations.

You cannot deduct federal Social Security taxes withheld from your pay or Social Security payments you make for someone working in your home, like a maid; auto licenses, unless based on the value of the car.

You cannot deduct the federal tax on telephone calls or the tax on plane fares.

You cannot deduct for marriage license fees, fishing or hunting licenses, dog licenses, federal estate, inheritance or gift taxes, or the self-employment tax you pay on earnings from self-employment.

The list of deductible and nondeductible expenses is too long to be included here in full.

In addition to the IRS pamphlet, you can get a lot of help in all directions from the government's 160-page booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax," which costs 50 cents at an IRS office or from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., 20402.

The Potters are eighth in the AP rankings. Bob Harrison's Canton Lehman team is 27th according to AP, 29th according to UPI. The UPI has Dayton Dunbar and Toledo Libbey in the Top 10 instead of East Liverpool and Canton McKinley, otherwise the two polls have the same teams in the Top 10.

In class A UPI ratings, Mt. Pleasant is 15th, Wayne 24th, Springfield (Mahoning) 26th and McDonald 34th.

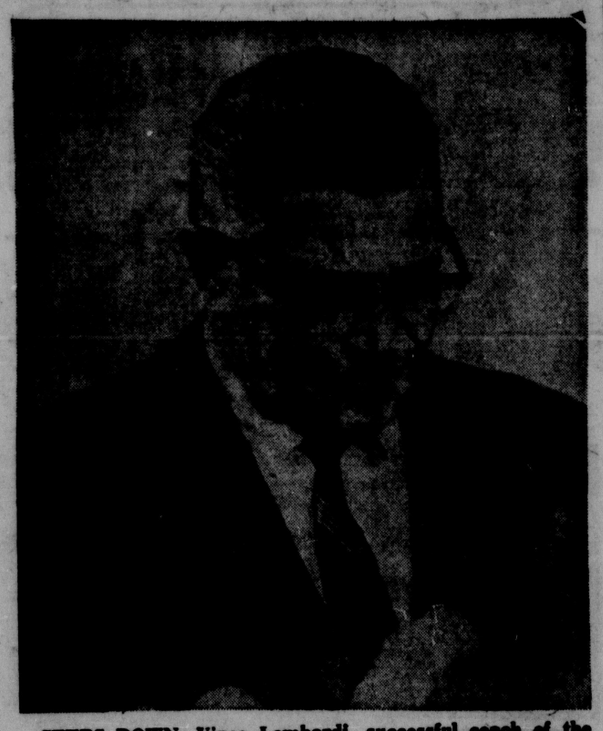

MIDLAND'S Norm Vanlier continues his fine play for St. Francis. He dumped in 19 points Wednesday night as the Frankies trounced St. Vincent 90-55.

Joe Massey of East Liverpool scored 20 points for Thiel Wednesday night, but it wasn't enough, as Bud Manes' team lost to Bethany 67-56. Thiel is 4-6 on the season.

ERNEST HANLON of East Liverpool has the high game and series so far in the Toronto Lions "Bowl For Sight" Tournament. Hanlon rolled a 247-639. The tournament will continue through March 10, and teams may still enter.

Lombardi Steps Down As Packer Head Coach

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Vince Lombardi, the Brooklyn-born miracle man who built football's mightiest dynasty in this small city on Green Bay, has retired to the executive suite after nine smash seasons as Packer head coach.

From now on, Lombardi, 54, will be only the general manager of the team he coached to five National Football League titles in those years. The new head coach will be Phil Bengtson, 56, the designer of the Packers' stifling defenses.

It was the first time Lombardi, absolute ruler of Green Bay football as coach and general manager, ever delegated a major share of his authority.

"Our relationship has been very close and there's been a very real understanding between us as long as we've been together," Bengtson said.

"I realize I will be succeeding a remarkable man as coach of a team with a record probably unequaled in the history of football," Bengtson said. "I hope we will be able to continue the winning tradition of the Packers."

The one-time Minnesota star, who admitted having turned down previous head coaching offers, spoke immediately after Lombardi told Packer directors and newsmen of his decision Thursday night.

He had made up his mind, Lombardi said, "only after a great deal of thought and study."

"Because of the nature and growth of the business and the corporate structure of the Packers, I believe it is impractical for me to try to do both jobs. I feel I must relinquish one of them," he said.

Lombardi's emotion showed only momentarily during his three-minute talk. When it was over, tears were noticeable in his eyes.

The indomitable Lombardi, the only man ever to coach a team to three straight titles since the NLF adopted the playoff system in 1933, said he was flattered by the number of people who attended his news conference and dinner. "This started out as a routine press release, believe me," he said to the gathering of more than 100 persons.

Lombardi, who took over a team that had won only one game in 1958 and turned it into a contender almost overnight and a champion within three years, leaves after nine straight winning seasons.

His Packer teams won 89 regular season games, lost only 29 and tied four. The Packers captured six Western Conference titles as well as five league titles and for the past two seasons have won world titles by beating the American Football League champions in the Super Bowl.

Bengtson, believed close to Lombardi in football outlook, said he planned no major departures from traditional Packer patterns.

Packer players don't expect any changes either. Bengtson indicated he would, at least for the time being, continue to run the defense. For the past nine seasons he has called all the Packer defensive signals.

Oak Glen Idle; Tri-County Busy

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

East Liverpool's two Big 8 clashes are part of a 15-game schedule for area scholastic basketball teams over the weekend.

Wellsville hosts Southern Local tonight, but Beaver Local is away both tonight and tomorrow night, Midland is away and Oak Glen is idle.

The Indians of Al Girone will be trying to snap a 15-game losing streak when they invade the Tigers' lair for a Buckeye Border Conference battle. Rob Carter leads Southern with a 14.5 average, while Tom McClain at 14.4 and Jerry Wyse at 13.7 pace Bob Dawson's club, which snapped a six-game losing streak Tuesday against Oak Glen. The Tigers are 5-9 overall.

Midland, 6-10 on the year and 3-5 in the league, go to Beaver for a Section 6 test. The Leopards surprised the Bobcats 73-71 at Midland earlier, but Beaver is 10-6 overall, though also 3-5 in the circuit. Alan Guandolo, Mike Eazer, Dave Pawelkowski, Wes Mabin and John Skorupan are the mainstays for the Bobcats. Dave Vanlier, scoring 16.6, and Howard Leak, hitting 11.8, lead Ed Olkowski's club.

BEAVER LOCAL is at United tonight and Crestview tomorrow night. Lloyd Stockdale's Beavers hope to bounce back from their second loss of the season and get their 12th and 13th wins in non-league encounters. Rex Campbell leads the Beaver Local scoring with a 17.5 average, Jim Reese is at 15.3, Mike Platt at 13.5 and Dave Mason 11.6.

United is 7-6. The only common opponent with the Beavers is North Lima, a 51-47 winner over United and an 86-62 loser to Beaver Local. The Golden Eagles, coached by Jack Mills Sr., are led by Tad Drake at 16.0, Jack Mills Jr. at 11.2, Tom Wood at 10.5 and Bill Kibler at 10.0.

Crestview is also 7-6, and has split two games with North Lima, 61-57 and 60-73 last week. The Beavers ran over the Rebels 95-62 in an earlier meeting. Another common foe is Southern Local, beaten 61-57 and 72-54 by Crestview and 85-53 by the Beavers. Randy McBride scores 15.8 for Jim Hilbun's team, with Jerry Ray at 10.5.

Two Tri-County League games find Leetonia at East Palestine and Columbiana at Sebring. Leetonia is 7-5, 3-3 in league action, while East Palestine is 11-1, 7-0 in the league. Jack Swinderman's Bulldogs have the area's leading scorer in Dan McKinstry, hitting 22.8, but Joe Lewis is at 14.5 and Bill Lewis is at 11.1. The Lewis brothers each won a close game with late foul shots last weekend. Art Kovacs' Leetonia team has Allen Gibson at 15.5, Jay Bland at 13.3 and Ed Casey at 10.8. East Palestine won at Leetonia 68-64.

COLUMBIANA is 7-6, Sebring 6-6. The Clippers of Rich Berryman are led by Dan Gaughn at 14.0 and George Vestfals at 13.4. Sophomore Greg Wilson is outstanding for Rick Brook's Trojans, with Jeff Ludwig, Greg Gadd and Joe Bowers helping out. Sebring lost at Columbiana 72-64.

The Section 17 slate shows two area games tonight, with Crafton at Western Beaver and Carnegie at South Side. Crafton and South Side are tied for the league lead at 4-1, while Carnegie and Western are 2-3. Overall South Side is 9-5, Western 4-13, Crafton 7-4 and Carnegie 6-9. Carnegie lost at South Side 68-62 and Western fell at Crafton 105-90 earlier this year.

Ron Peden paces John Nace's South Side Rams with a 21.6 average and Dan Hartzell is at 12.4. Jack Steinhart and Skip Prosser lead Carnegie. John Dudo's Western team has a balanced attack with John Petchel at 13.0, Mike Lacey at 11.6, Darryl (Bucky) Dye and Sam Liberatore at 11.4 and Chuck Kelker at 11.3. Butch Knetz and Jack Walters are high scorers for Crafton.

Crestview tonight entertains Western Reserve, 7-6, in an Inter-County League game. The Rebels are 3-4 in the circuit, Western 4-2. Mike Owen and Bob Keck lead Reserve, which is coached by Jim Lower.

Saturday night Tri-County League action continues with Lisbon at Leetonia and East Palestine at Columbiana. Lisbon is 6-5, 4-3 in league play. Gary Pike's Blue Devils are paced by Sophomore Jim Courtney, scoring 15.6, with Stan Barefield at 14.7, Mike Rutecki at 12.7 and Bill Hartman at 12.6. Leetonia lost at Lisbon 70-55.

Also Saturday Stanton travels to Yorkville and Salem is at Steubenville for an important Big 8 game. Stanton is 6-9 after winning its last three. Randy Frampton leads the Red Raiders of Dave Murray with a 17.5 average, with Dave Olesky at 13.9 and Cliff Slusher at 11.3. Bill Koehnlein, who was at 10.8, became academically ineligible at semester break and sophomore Tim Logan is replacing him.

Local Kent State Branch Home To Salem Tomorrow

The East Liverpool branch of Kent State University will open an abbreviated basketball season Saturday night by hosting the Salem KSU branch at the Memorial Auditorium.

Chuck Leedy, a 1959 Kent State graduate who is on the Stanton High faculty, is coaching the local cagers. He was reserve coach at Stanton last year and coached the freshmen there four years previous to that. Leedy also had coaching experience in the air force.

Leedy notes that he has a fast squad, but lacks some height. Since his team only works out three times a week it will use a free lance offense.

Probably starters are 6-4 Howard Jackson of Wellsville, 5-9 Jeff Hall of Beaver Local, 5-10 Lee Sherwood of Toronto, 6-0 Emery Brewer of East Liverpool and 6-1 Tony Smolinsky of Stanton. All just graduated last year from high school except Jackson, who has played junior college ball in Texas.

Others on the squad are 6-0 Norm Gaydos, Beaver Local '66; 6-2 Tom Moore, East Liverpool '66; 6-0 Ed Jones, Toronto '66; 6-4 Gary Steepleton, Wellsville '66; 5-8 Wayne Dunlevy, Stanton '67; and Mike Moore, Bill Frontz and Tom Snow of East Liverpool.

Salem's center is coached by Salem High JV coach Carl Zellers. The team plays in an industrial league, and is 6-3 so far, but has lost to Wadsworth center and the Mt. Union JV. Top scorers for Salem are 6-3 Lou Taylor of Marietta and 6-0 Denny Ferguson from Alliance, while 6-2 Jim Conkle from East Palestine, 5-10 Bill Vaughn from Salem and 5-10 Gary Smith from West Branch are the other starters. All are just out of high school except Smith, who graduated in 1965. Salem played as a tech school last year.

The two centers will play three games every season, with a trophy being given to the winner. Salem will appear here again Feb. 23 and East Liverpool will go there at a date to be determined.

Tickets for tomorrow's game will be available at the door, $1 for adults and $.50 for students. Game time is 8 p.m.

Devlin, Zarley Lead Bob Hope Desert Golf

By BOB MYERS

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Golfer Billy Casper examined the scoreboard at the Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic and observed: "You'd have to think the green and the black score are in good condition."

To explain this mystifying remark, it must be explained that in what has been called a computers dream tournament, there are four courses in play and, to distinguish them on the scoreboard, each course has its own color.

Green is the color for La Quinta and black is El Dorado, which are considered the two toughest to play. Indian Wells is red and Bermuda Dunes is blue for the two less difficult layouts.

Among the better players who have now played the green and the black are Arnold Palmer, Gay Brewer and Casper himself, as well as Bruce Devlin.

Indian Wells awaits them in today's third round, then Bermuda Dunes Saturday and again for the final of the five rounds Sunday.

Devlin, the 30-year-old Australian, and Kermit Zarley, 26, of Seattle, led the charge into today's round. Devlin shot a five-under par 67 and Zarley a 68 to tie at 138 after 36 holes.

Zarley has yet to play La Quinta and El Dorado.

Brewer, with a 69, was in a tie at 141, three shots off the pace, and Palmer, with a 70, and Casper, 72, were in the 142 ranks.

"I expect my game will jell over the weekend. After all," said Casper, "we're not too far away."

The first-round leaders, Bob Rosburg and Bill Collins with the rough courses yet to be played, drifted back. Roseburg's 74 gave him 141, and Collins' 75 left him at 142.

Quarry-Spencer Fight In Oakland Tomorrow

OAKLAND (AP) — Don Chargin, promoter of the Thad Spencer-Jerry Quarry heavyweight elimination series fight Saturday, would like to see new officials in the ring, and at ringside.

"We need a new set of officials to improve the scoring," he told newsmen, "and I'd like to see a school for referees. An ex-fighter doesn't always make the best referee."

Quarry fought a disputed 10-round draw with former champion Floyd Patterson in their first fight and then scored a close 12-round decision over Patterson in their second meeting.

There has been man-in-the-street speculation that Quarry would get the officials' verdict in a close fight on the contention he is a sentimental favorite here—and that the officials could be swayed by applause.

Spencer, 24, 203 with a 32-7 record, is a San Franciscan but never has drawn well there.

Quarry, 22, now a Los Angeles resident, spent his boyhood in the San Francisco Bay area. He weighs 193 and has a 25-1-4 record.

Saturday's fight, scheduled for 5 p.m., EST, will be televised to the United States and Mexico City and, via Satellite, to Europe and Japan. Northern California will be blacked out.

East Liverpool is ranked 13th among state scholastic basketball teams according to UPI.

The Potters are eighth in the AP rankings. Bob Harrison's Canton Lehman team is 27th according to AP, 29th according to UPI. The UPI has Dayton Dunbar and Toledo Libbey in the Top 10 instead of East Liverpool and Canton McKinley, otherwise the two polls have the same teams in the Top 10.

In class A UPI ratings, Mt. Pleasant is 15th, Wayne 24th, Springfield (Mahoning) 26th and McDonald 34th.

MIDLAND'S Norm Vanlier continues his fine play for St. Francis. He dumped in 19 points Wednesday night as the Frankies trounced St. Vincent 90-55.

Joe Massey of East Liverpool scored 20 points for Thiel Wednesday night, but it wasn't enough, as Bud Manes' team lost to Bethany 67-56. Thiel is 4-6 on the season.

ERNEST HANLON of East Liverpool has the high game and series so far in the Toronto Lions "Bowl For Sight" Tournament. Hanlon rolled a 247-639. The tournament will continue through March 10, and teams may still enter.

PENN STATE will host the NCAA wrestling finals March 21-23. Tickets may be obtained by mail. The Nittany Lions won the team title in 1953, the only Eastern school ever to do so.

PENNSYLVANIA state basketball championships will be held at the Pittsburgh Civic Arena this year. Class C and B finals will be a doubleheader March 22 and the Class A finals will be March 23. The WPIAL final will be at the Civic Arena March 11.

Lombardi Steps Down As Packer Head Coach

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Vince Lombardi, the Brooklyn-born miracle man who built football's mightiest dynasty in this small city on Green Bay, has retired to the executive suite after nine smash seasons as Packer head coach.

From now on, Lombardi, 54, will be only the general manager of the team he coached to five National Football League titles in those years. The new head coach will be Phil Bengtson, 56, the designer of the Packers' stifling defenses.

It was the first time Lombardi, absolute ruler of Green Bay football as coach and general manager, ever delegated a major share of his authority.

"Our relationship has been very close and there's been a very real understanding between us as long as we've been together," Bengtson said.

"I realize I will be succeeding a remarkable man as coach of a team with a record probably unequaled in the history of football," Bengtson said. "I hope we will be able to continue the winning tradition of the Packers."

The one-time Minnesota star, who admitted having turned down previous head coaching offers, spoke immediately after Lombardi told Packer directors and newsmen of his decision Thursday night.

He had made up his mind, Lombardi said, "only after a great deal of thought and study."

"Because of the nature and growth of the business and the corporate structure of the Packers, I believe it is impractical for me to try to do both jobs. I feel I must relinquish one of them," he said.

Lombardi's emotion showed only momentarily during his three-minute talk. When it was over, tears were noticeable in his eyes.

The indomitable Lombardi, the only man ever to coach a team to three straight titles since the NLF adopted the playoff system in 1933, said he was flattered by the number of people who attended his news conference and dinner. "This started out as a routine press release, believe me," he said to the gathering of more than 100 persons.

Lombardi, who took over a team that had won only one game in 1958 and turned it into a contender almost overnight and a champion within three years, leaves after nine straight winning seasons.

His Packer teams won 89 regular season games, lost only 29 and tied four. The Packers captured six Western Conference titles as well as five league titles and for the past two seasons have won world titles by beating the American Football League champions in the Super Bowl.

Bengtson, believed close to Lombardi in football outlook, said he planned no major departures from traditional Packer patterns.

Packer players don't expect any changes either. Bengtson indicated he would, at least for the time being, continue to run the defense. For the past nine seasons he has called all the Packer defensive signals.

Oak Glen Idle; Tri-County Busy

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

East Liverpool's two Big 8 clashes are part of a 15-game schedule for area scholastic basketball teams over the weekend.

Wellsville hosts Southern Local tonight, but Beaver Local is away both tonight and tomorrow night, Midland is away and Oak Glen is idle.

The Indians of Al Girone will be trying to snap a 15-game losing streak when they invade the Tigers' lair for a Buckeye Border Conference battle. Rob Carter leads Southern with a 14.5 average, while Tom McClain at 14.4 and Jerry Wyse at 13.7 pace Bob Dawson's club, which snapped a six-game losing streak Tuesday against Oak Glen. The Tigers are 5-9 overall.

Midland, 6-10 on the year and 3-5 in the league, go to Beaver for a Section 6 test. The Leopards surprised the Bobcats 73-71 at Midland earlier, but Beaver is 10-6 overall, though also 3-5 in the circuit. Alan Guandolo, Mike Eazer, Dave Pawelkowski, Wes Mabin and John Skorupan are the mainstays for the Bobcats. Dave Vanlier, scoring 18.6, and Howard Leak, hitting 11.8, lead Ed Olkowski's club.

BEAVER LOCAL is at United tonight and Crestview tomorrow night. Lloyd Stockdale's Beavers hope to bounce back from their second loss of the season and get their 12th and 13th wins in non-league encounters. Rex Campbell leads the Beaver Local scoring with a 17.5 average, Jim Reese is at 15.3, Mike Piatt at 13.5 and Dave Mason 11.6.

United is 7-6. The only common opponent with the Beavers is North Lima, a 51-47 winner over United and an 86-62 loser to Beaver Local. The Golden Eagles, coached by Jack Mills Sr., are led by Tad Drake at 16.0, Jack Mills Jr. at 11.2, Tom Wood at 10.5 and Bill Kibler at 10.0.

Crestview is also 7-6, and has split two games with North Lima, 61-57 and 60-73 last week. The Beavers ran over the Rebels 95-62 in an earlier meeting. Another common foe is Southern Local, beaten 61-57 and 72-54 by Crestview and 85-53 by the Beavers. Randy McBride scores 15.8 for Jim Hilbun's team, with Jerry Ray at 10.5.

Two Tri-County League games find Leetonia at East Palestine and Columbiana at Sebring. Leetonia is 7-5, 3-3 in league action, while East Palestine is 11-1, 7-0 in the league. Jack Swinderman's Bulldogs have the area's leading scorer in Dan McKinstry, hitting 22.8, but Joe Lewis is at 14.5 and Bill Lewis is at 11.1. The Lewis brothers each won a close game with late foul shots last weekend. Art Kovacs' Leetonia team has Allen Gibson at 15.5, Jay Bland at 13.3 and Ed Casey at 10.8. East Palestine won at Leetonia 68-64.

COLUMBIANA is 7-6, Sebring 6-6. The Clippers of Rich Berryman are led by Dan Gaughn at 14.0 and George Vestfals at 13.4. Sophomore Greg Wilson is outstanding for Rick Brook's Trojans, with Jeff Ludwig, Greg Gadd and Joe Bowers helping out. Sebring lost at Columbiana 72-64.

The Section 17 slate shows two area games tonight, with Crafton at Western Beaver and Carnegie at South Side. Crafton and South Side are tied for the league lead at 4-1, while Carnegie and Western are 2-3. Overall South Side is 9-5, Western 4-13, Crafton 7-4 and Carnegie 6-9. Carnegie lost at South Side 68-62 and Western fell at Crafton 105-90 earlier this year.

Ron Peden paces John Nace's South Side Rams with a 21.6 average and Dan Hartzell is at 12.4. Jack Steinhart and Skip Prosser lead Carnegie. John Dudo's Western team has a balanced attack with John Petchel at 13.0, Mike Lacey at 11.6, Darryl (Bucky) Dye and Sam Liberatore at 11.4 and Chuck Kelker at 11.3. Butch Knetz and Jack Walters are high scorers for Crafton.

Crestview tonight entertains Western Reserve, 7-6, in an Inter-County League game. The Rebels are 3-4 in the circuit, Western 4-2. Mike Owen and Bob Keck lead Reserve, which is coached by Jim Lower.

Saturday night Tri-County League action continues with Lisbon at Leetonia and East Palestine at Columbiana. Lisbon is 6-5, 4-3 in league play. Gary Pike's Blue Devils are paced by Sophomore Jim Courtney, scoring 15.6, with Stan Barefield at 14.7, Mike Rutecki at 12.7 and Bill Hartman at 12.6. Leetonia lost at Lisbon 70-55.

Also Saturday Stanton travels to Yorkville and Salem is at Steubenville for an important Big 8 game. Stanton is 6-9 after winning its last three. Randy Frampton leads the Red Raiders of Dave Murray with a 17.5 average, with Dave Olesky at 13.9 and Cliff Slusher at 11.3. Bill Koehnlein, who was at 10.8, became academically ineligible at semester break and sophomore Tim Logan is replacing him.

Local Kent State Branch Home To Salem Tomorrow

The East Liverpool branch of Kent State University will open an abbreviated basketball season Saturday night by hosting the Salem KSU branch at the Memorial Auditorium.

Chuck Leedy, a 1959 Kent State graduate who is on the Stanton High faculty, is coaching the local cagers. He was reserve coach at Stanton last year and coached the freshmen there four years previous to that. Leedy also had coaching experience in the air force.

Leedy notes that he has a fast squad, but lacks some height. Since his team only works out three times a week it will use a free lance offense.

Probably starters are 6-4 Howard Jackson of Wellsville, 5-9 Jeff Hall of Beaver Local, 5-10 Lee Sherwood of Toronto, 6-0 Emery Brewer of East Liverpool and 6-1 Tony Smolinsky of Stanton. All just graduated last year from high school except Jackson, who has played junior college ball in Texas.

Others on the squad are 6-0 Norm Gaydos, Beaver Local '66; 6-2 Tom Moore, East Liverpool '66; 6-0 Ed Jones, Toronto '66; 6-4 Gary Steepleton, Wellsville '66; 5-8 Wayne Dunlevy, Stanton '67; and Mike Moore, Bill Frontz and Tom Snow of East Liverpool.

Salem's center is coached by Salem High JV coach Carl Zellers. The team plays in an industrial league, and is 6-3 so far, but has lost to Wadsworth center and the Mt. Union JV. Top scorers for Salem are 6-3 Lou Taylor of Marietta and 6-0 Denny Ferguson from Alliance, while 6-2 Jim Conkle from East Palestine, 5-10 Bill Vaughn from Salem and 5-10 Gary Smith from West Branch are the other starters. All are just out of high school except Smith, who graduated in 1965. Salem played as a tech school last year.

The two centers will play three games every season, with a trophy being given to the winner. Salem will appear here again Feb. 23 and East Liverpool will go there at a date to be determined.

Tickets for tomorrow's game will be available at the door, $1 for adults and $.50 for students. Game time is 8 p.m.

Devlin, Zarley Lead Bob Hope Desert Golf

By BOB MYERS

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Golfer Billy Casper examined the scoreboard at the Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic and observed: "You'd have to think the green and the black score are in good condition."

To explain this mystifying remark, it must be explained that in what has been called a computers dream tournament, there are four courses in play and, to distinguish them on the scoreboard, each course has its own color.

Green is the color for La Quinta and black is El Dorado, which are considered the two toughest to play. Indian Wells is red and Bermuda Dunes is blue for the two less difficult layouts.

Among the better players who have now played the green and the black are Arnold Palmer, Gay Brewer and Casper himself, as well as Bruce Devlin.

Indian Wells awaits them in today's third round, then Bermuda Dunes Saturday and again for the final of the five rounds Sunday.

Devlin, the 30-year-old Australian, and Kermit Zarley, 26, of Seattle, led the charge into today's round. Devlin shot a five-under par 67 and Zarley a 68 to tie at 138 after 36 holes.

Zarley has yet to play La Quinta and El Dorado.

Brewer, with a 69, was in a tie at 141, three shots off the pace, and Palmer, with a 70, and Casper, 72, were in the 142 ranks.

"I expect my game will jell over the weekend. After all," said Casper, "we're not too far away."

The first-round leaders, Bob Rosburg and Bill Collins with the rough courses yet to be played, drifted back. Roseburg's 74 gave him 141, and Collins' 75 left him at 142.

Hayes Gets 39 In 102-93 Win

Houston Tops Marshall

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston's Elvin Hayes was not satisfied with his performance in New York's Madison Square Garden, but neither was opposing Marshall, so the Big E must have done something right.

Whatever he did, it got him 39 points and 19 rebounds, enough to run the top-ranked Cougars past the Thundering Herd 102-93 Thursday night for their 20th college basketball victory without a loss.

Houston, although in command from the early moments, never could shake hustling Marshall, but still had an easier time than third-ranked North Carolina, which came from behind twice in the last half to beat visiting Florida State 86-80.

The only other ranking team in action, Duke, No. 9, also had its hands full before Subduing Virginia 90-78 in Charlottesville.

Hayes, a 6-foot-8, 235-pound All-American, connected on 16 of 29 shots from the field, but most of them were short jumpers or rebounds as he seldom moved outcourt against the smaller Thundering Herd.

"I was looking forward to playing in the Garden," he said. "I had 22 points here two years ago, but I didn't think I had a good night.

"I think I played well tonight, but I could have played better. I don't think we were as up tonight as we were for UCLA. How could we be?"

Controlling the backboards and with Hayes hitting 17 points, the Cougars turned a 12-10 deficit into a 48-39 halftime lead that later grew to 65-49. But they couldn't break it open and Marshall pulled within 85-81 before Hayes' four points paced an eight-point surge and then he scored Houston's last seven points.

The game was the opener of a doubleheader in which Army trounced New York U. 75-51 in the nightcap for its eighth straight victory and a 14-3 record.

North Carolina, winning for the 13th time in 14 starts, led 46-40 at the half, but had to make up 63-61 and 76-75 deficits. Four consecutive points gave the Tar Heels a 79-76 lead they never gave up.

Larry Miller had 24 points for North Carolina.

Duke, upset Tuesday night by South Carolina, had trouble again as Virginia held a 72-70 edge before Mike Lewis hit a basket and Steve Vandenberg dropped four straight free throws. Then with the score 80-78, Duke scored the last 10 points of the game.

Lewis finished with 26 points.

Tulsa pulled away from a North Texas State press in the second half for a 70-57 victory in Denton, Tex. Rob Washington had 23 points for Tulsa.

Don May notched 31 points to lead Dayton to a 98-60 rout over visiting Miami of Florida.

Oklahoma City, playing at home and led by Ardel England's 30 points, pulled away early to a 127-99 cruise over Wisconsin.

New Mexico State blew a 19-point lead at home and had to break a 76-all tie for a 95-87 victory over Hardin-Simmons. It was the Aggies 17th triumph in 19 games.

In road victories, Brigham Young outscored Utah State 118-103 and Washington crushed Montana State 98-74.

Georgia Tech defeated Clemson 99-64, Alabama bombed Stamford 86-65, Nebraska stopped Colorado 87-73 and Portland upset Oregon State 67-61 in home victories.

Penguins Beat Blues, Binkley Posts Shutout

By The Associated Press

When Los Angeles' young Kings go forth in Detroit, the Red Wings' ice palace becomes a goaltenders' graveyard.

The Kings, whose 6-4 National Hockey League road victory at Detroit three months ago sent Roger Crozier into temporary retirement, returned to the Wings' ice Thursday night and buried goalies Roy Edwards and Crozier under an 8-6 barrage.

Detroit's Floyd Smith scored four goals for the first time in his pro career in the wide-open offensive duel. But the Kings, led by Bill Flett's hat trick, riddled starter Edwards for five goals and tagged Crozier, working in relief, for three more to finish on top.

In other games, the Montreal Canadiens whipped New York 5-2 for their 11th straight triumph, Chicago and Boston scrambled to a 4-4 tie, Pittsburgh blanked St. Louis 2-0 and Oakland played Philadelphia to a 3-3 standoff.

The Canadiens, unbeaten in 15 straight games since last Dec. 25, moved three points ahead of second place Chicago in the East Division race as Jean Beliveau set up first-period power play goals by Dick Duff and Yvan Cournoyer, then drilled his 20th goal of the season in the final session.

Claude Provost and Jacques Laperriere also scored for Montreal just three victories short of the all-time NHL winning string of 14 established by Boston during the 1929-30 season.

The Black Hawks earned a deadlock with the Bruins when Dennis Hull fired his second goal of the game with one minute to play. The younger of the Hawks' sharp-shooting Hull brothers put in his fourth tally in two nights 59 seconds after Bobby Orr shot the Bruins ahead 4-3.

The tie broke a four-game losing string for the Bruins, who trailed Chicago by two points and are one ahead of fourth place Toronto.

Rookie Bob Rivard, called up from the minors last weekend, slammed in his first two NHL goals as the Penguins stymied St. Louis behind Les Binkley's brilliant goaltending. Binkley stopped 22 shots on the way to his fifth shutout, tying Minnesota's Cesare Maniago for the league lead.

Simmy Hill Up To 4th In Scoring

Simmy Hill of Midland has moved up to fourth nationally in scoring among major college basketball players.

Hill has scored 282 points in nine games for West Texas State for a 29.1 average. He trails Pete Maravich of LSU, Calvin Murphy of Niagara and Elvin Hayes of Houston.

Fred Foster of Miami is 10th in scoring, George Zatezalo of Center Twp. and Clemson 17th, Steve Mix of Toledo 22nd, George Stone of Marshall 30th, Walt Piatkowski of Bowling Green 33rd, Bob Quick of Xavier 38th and Ron Williams of West Virginia 50th.

Steve Sorenson of Ohio State is 10th in field goal percentage, while in rebounding Dick Cunningham of Canton and Murray State is fifth, Larry Lewis of St. Francis is eighth and Don May of Dayton ninth.

Toledo is sixth in scoring as a team, while St. Francis has slipped to 10th. Cincinnati is 17th on defense. St. Francis is fourth in rebounding.

In field goal accuracy, Toledo is seventh, Miami ninth and Ohio State 11th.

In his 20th season as football coach at Northeastern in Boston, Joe Zabilski was named small college coach in District 1 by the American Football Coaches Association. His team had a 7-1 record.

Hayes Gets 39 In 102-93 Win

Houston Tops Marshall

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston's Elvin Hayes was not satisfied with his performance in New York's Madison Square Garden, but neither was opposing Marshall, so the Big E must have done something right.

Whatever he did, it got him 39 points and 19 rebounds, enough to run the top-ranked Cougars past the Thundering Herd 102-93 Thursday night for their 20th college basketball victory without a loss.

Houston, although in command from the early moments, never could shake hustling Marshall, but still had an easier time than third-ranked North Carolina, which came from behind twice in the last half to beat visiting Florida State 86-80.

The only other ranking team in action, Duke, No. 9, also had its hands full before Subduing Virginia 90-78 in Charlottesville.

Hayes, a 6-foot-8, 235-pound All-American, connected on 16 of 29 shots from the field, but most of them were short jumpers or rebounds as he seldom moved outcourt against the smaller Thundering Herd.

"I was looking forward to playing in the Garden," he said. "I had 22 points here two years ago, but I didn't think I had a good night.

"I think I played well tonight, but I could have played better. I don't think we were as up tonight as we were for UCLA. How could we be?"

Controlling the backboards and with Hayes hitting 17 points, the Cougars turned a 12-10 deficit into a 48-39 halftime lead that later grew to 65-49. But they couldn't break it open and Marshall pulled within 85-81 before Hayes' four points paced an eight-point surge and then he scored Houston's last seven points.

The game was the opener of a doubleheader in which Army trounced New York U. 75-51 in the nightcap for its eighth straight victory and a 14-3 record.

North Carolina, winning for the 13th time in 14 starts, led 46-40 at the half, but had to make up 63-61 and 76-75 deficits. Four consecutive points gave the Tar Heels a 79-76 lead they never gave up.

Larry Miller had 24 points for North Carolina.

Duke, upset Tuesday night by South Carolina, had trouble again as Virginia held a 72-70 edge before Mike Lewis hit a basket and Steve Vandenberg dropped four straight free throws. Then with the score 80-78, Duke scored the last 10 points of the game.

Lewis finished with 26 points.

Tulsa pulled away from a North Texas State press in the second half for a 70-57 victory in Denton, Tex. Rob Washington had 23 points for Tulsa.

Don May notched 31 points to lead Dayton to a 98-60 rout over visiting Miami of Florida.

Oklahoma City, playing at home and led by Ardel England's 30 points, pulled away early to a 127-99 cruise over Wisconsin.

New Mexico State blew a 19-point lead at home and had to break a 78-all tie for a 95-87 victory over Hardin-Simmons. It was the Aggies 17th triumph in 19 games.

In road victories, Brigham Young outscored Utah State 118-103 and Washington crushed Montana State 98-74.

Georgia Tech defeated Clemson 99-64, Alabama bombed Stamford 86-65, Nebraska stopped Colorado 87-73 and Portland upset Oregon State 67-61 in home victories.

Penguins Beat Blues, Binkley Posts Shutout

By The Associated Press

The Kings, whose 6-4 National Hockey League road victory at Detroit three months ago sent Roger Crozier into temporary retirement, returned to the Wings' ice Thursday night and buried goalies Roy Edwards and Crozier under an 8-6 barrage.

Detroit's Floyd Smith scored four goals for the first time in his pro career in the wide-open offensive duel. But the Kings, led by Bill Flett's hat trick, riddled starter Edwards for five goals and tagged Crozier, working in relief, for three more to finish on top.

In other games, the Montreal Canadiens whipped New York 5-2 for their 11th straight triumph, Chicago and Boston scrambled to a 4-4 tie, Pittsburgh blanked St. Louis 2-0 and Oakland played Philadelphia to a 3-3 standoff.

The Canadiens, unbeaten in 15 straight games since last Dec. 25, moved three points ahead of second place Chicago in the East Division race as Jean Beliveau set up first-period power play goals by Dick Duff and Yvan Cournoyer, then drilled his 20th goal of the season in the final session.

Claude Provost and Jacques Laperriere also scored for Montreal just three victories short of the all-time NHL winning string of 14 established by Boston during the 1929-30 season.

The Black Hawks earned a deadlock with the Bruins when Dennis Hull fired his second goal of the game with one minute to play. The younger of the Hawks' sharp-shooting Hull brothers put in his fourth tally in two nights 59 seconds after Bobby Orr shot the Bruins ahead 4-3.

The tie broke a four-game losing string for the Bruins, who trailed Chicago by two points and are one ahead of fourth place Toronto.

Rookie Bob Rivard, called up from the minors last weekend, slammed in his first two NHL goals as the Penguins stymied St. Louis behind Les Binkley's brilliant goaltending. Binkley stopped 22 shots on the way to his fifth shutout, tying Minnesota's Cesare Maniago for the league lead.

Simmy Hill Up To 4th In Scoring

Simmy Hill of Midland has moved up to fourth nationally in scoring among major college basketball players.

Hill has scored 262 points in nine games for West Texas State for a 29.1 average. He trails Pete Maravich of LSU, Calvin Murphy of Niagara and Elvin Hayes of Houston.

Fred Foster of Miami is 10th in scoring, George Zatezalo of Center Twp. and Clemson 17th, Steve Mix of Toledo 22nd, George Stone of Marshall 30th, Walt Piatkowski of Bowling Green 33rd, Bob Quick of Xavier 38th and Ron Williams of West Virginia 50th.

Steve Sorenson of Ohio State is 10th in field goal percentage, while in rebounding Dick Cunningham of Canton and Murray State is fifth, Larry Lewis of St. Francis is eighth and Don May of Dayton ninth.

Toledo is sixth in scoring as a team, while St. Francis has slipped to 10th. Cincinnati is 17th on defense. St. Francis is fourth in rebounding.

In field goal accuracy, Toledo is seventh, Miami ninth and Ohio State 11th.

In his 20th season as football coach at Northeastern in Boston, Joe Zabilski was named small college coach in District 1 by the American Football Coaches Association. His team had a 7-1 record.

Arbitration A Failure In NCAA-AAU Battle

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A peace between the two battling, major regulatory bodies in amateur athletics has failed to materialize despite a formula devised by a federal sports arbitration board which spent the past 26 months mediating the feud.

Just 5½ hours after the board —headed by labor mediator Theodore Kheel—made its recommendations public, one of the organizations issued a statement saying it would continue to operate as it had in the past.

The board established in its 29-page report three categories of track meets in this country—with varying sanctions. And it proposed a five-year binding arrangement in an effort to settle the dispute between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The NCAA and the AAU have been feuding for the past half century but the battle has become increasingly heated during the past few years. If anything, it has worsened during recent weeks.

The nation's track and field performers, who will carry American prestige into the Olympic Games at Mexico City this fall, are the key issue in the dispute.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said his panel might have to consider legislation to solve the dispute if all the factions involved did not accept the findings of the arbitration board.

Despite the threat, however, the U.S. Track and Field Federation, an arm of the NCAA, issued a statement Thursday night in which it said it "will conduct meets for its members without obtaining AAU sanction."

In its report, the board gave the AAU the sole sanctioning right for all open meets—those involving athletes from other countries and nonstudents.

It gave the USTFF the right to run closed meets, without AAU sanction, as long as they are confined to full-time students.

A third category of meets also was established by the board—open domestic competition. The USTFF could sponsor these meets but would need the sanction of the AAU, which would be automatic if the collegiate federation satisfied all the union's international requirements.

Kheel had said the board would assist during the changeover period in clarifying its ruling but "we are not about to renegotiate this decision."

The Rev. Wilfred Crowley, USTFF president, said he is elated that the board unanimously recognized the need for a single purpose track and field organization but "it is regrettable that the board and the Senate Commerce Committee have failed to pursue what is obviously the only solution to the problem."

The board conceded the ideal situation would be for a single organization to govern the sport, but added it has no hope of this.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said: "After listening to all of the organizations that make up the USTFF, I am convinced that the federation will not accept any decision which restricts the rights of the track and field organizations to conduct bona fide track meets for their own members."

David Matlin, AAU president, said he would not comment until he had read the entire decision.

However, Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, said: "The point that we have been trying to make is that open meets have to be sanctioned by the AAU. The board says that. That's what we've been fighting for."

LETTERMAN. Len Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Len Walker of 237 W. Church Lane, received a varsity football letter from Marietta College this year. The team was honored at a recent basketball game. Walker was a guard on the team that posted a 4-1-1 Ohio Conference mark, the best in 30 years.

Young U.S. Girl Skiiers 'Chewing Gum Kids'

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHAMROUSSE, France (AP) — They call them the Chewing Gum Kids. They've been here less than 24 hours and already they're the talk of this village where the Alpine events in the Winter Olympic Games start next week.

"They're not scared of the devil himself," said Bob Beattie, the coach of the U.S. Alpine team.

They are Cathy "Kiki" Cutter of Aspen, Colo., 18, and Judy Nagel, 16, of Enumclaw, Wash., daughter of an Olympic veteran.

Before the Christmas holidays, they had no idea they might be skiing for the United States in the Games, opening here Tuesday. Then injuries beset the American international squad, training in Europe, and Beattie made a hurried trip to the States to look for some help.

"I decided to attend the junior championships," Beattie said.

Teen-agers Kiki and Judy plus Erica Skinger of Stowe, Vt., were told to grab their skis and get to Europe as fast as they could.

Racing in Europe for the first time against such seasoned international stars as Nancy Greene of Canada, Marielle Goitschel of France and Gertraud Gabl, they astouned the experts by finishing among the leaders.

Judy looks like a little girl playing hooky from grade school. She is fresh and talkative. She chews gum constantly.

Asked whether she felt nervous going against the world's most experienced Alpine skiers, Judy shrugged her shoulders and said, "It's just another race."

Downtown Cagers Win In Overtime

John Connell starred as Downtown beat East End 23-17 in overtime in an eighth grade game in the Little Potters League at Westgate last night.

Connell got 20 points and all the overtime markers. Mike Banfield and Jim Natalina had five each for the losers.

In the other eighth grade game, Glenmoor topped North Side 15-9. Jim Tipton led the winners with eight. The winners are both 3-1, the losers with 1-3.

In the sixth and seventh grade division, Glenmoor remained unbeaten with a 21 -3 trouncing of Northside, 1-3. Phil Moffett scored nine. East End remained a step behind at 3-1 with an 18-12 win over Downtown, 0-4. Anthony Williams and Bob Jones had eight each for the winners and George Hanlon seven for the losers.

Wheeling Off Again Today

WHEELING — The races at Wheeling Downs have been called off for Friday, February 2, as the sodden skies add more misery to winter meeting officials.

It was emphasized, however, that racing definitely will resume Saturday with the first race at 1:30 p. m.

Track officials explained that the three days of almost steady rain, coupled with unseasonably warm weather that brought thaw water to the surface, had hampered maintenance crews in getting the track in a fast racing condition.

Golfer Little Dead At 57

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Lawson Little, twice winner of the U.S. Open Golf Championship, is dead of a heart ailment at 57.

Little was stricken Thursday afternoon at his home overlooking Pebble Beach golf course on the Monterey Peninsula and died a short time later at a hospital.

He had suffered from heart trouble since 1957 and in 1963 underwent brain surgery. Little had visited his doctor's office earlier Thursday.

Local Man Bags 50 Clay Pigeons In Club's Shoot

Alfred Cochran of McKee St. broke 50 consecutive clay pigeons Wednesday night at the range of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective Association.

Ray Goodman, George Hercules and Jerry Cochran each bagged 24 out of 25 and Elaine McIntosh, Glen Ramsey, Ken Alford, Terry Zaplata and Rich Corbin each 23.

Red bird winners were Jim Czech, Jerry Cochran and Gale McIntosh, two each, and John McIntosh, Bob Cochran, Dale Rufener and Zaplata, one each. Protector shoots were won by Luther Adkins and Ray Goodman, Adkins and Cliff Cochran and Dave Farr and Zaplata.

Muskies Beat Dallas, Within ½ Game Of 1st

By The Associated Press

The game meant about as little as one could, but Kentucky and Houston acted as if it were for a championship.

Houston, in last place in the American Basketball Association's Western Division, beat Kentucky, similarly situated in the Eastern Division, 109-107 Thursday night. And the Mavericks had to fight to the bitter end.

The Colonels outscored them 31-19 in the last period—and 59-43 in the final period—only to bow by the two-point margin.

In other games, Minnesota beat Dallas 116-99 and Oakland downed New Orleans 131-124.

Wilbert Frazier led the scoring for Houston, 16½ games out of first place, with 30 points. Darrel Carrier paced Kentucky, 15½ game out, with 26 points.

Minnesota moved to within a half-game of idle Pittsburgh in the Eastern Division with its victory. Sam Smith led the way for the Muskies with 29 points, 14 in the second quarter. Cincy Powell led the Chaparrals with 18.

Barry Leibowitz, recently acquired by Oakland in a trade with New Jersey, collected seven points in the final two minutes to thwart a New Orleans comeback. Doug Moe topped the Saints with 37 points and Jim Hadnot was high for the Oaks with 30.

Bellamy, Reed Lead Knicks Past Bulls

Cazzie Russell had a night off from his hot shooting and Bill Bradley stayed on the bench most of the time as the New York Knicks' big men took a turn at doing some scoring.

With Walt Bellamy scoring 25 points and Willis Reed scoring 24 and pulling down 21 rebounds, the Knicks beat the Chicago Bulls 112-103 in National Basketball Association action Thursday night.

Russell, a hot shooter of late, scored just five points for the Knicks and Bradley, playing less and less these days, hit on only two free throws as the Knicks led all the way.

In other NBA games, San Francisco beat San Diego 128-114 and St. Louis edged Seattle 113-110.

Bob Boozer topped the Bulls' scorers with 28 points with Flynn Robinson adding 18. The Knicks are now just a half-game out of fourth place in the Eastern Division and one game out of third.

St. Louis got five points in the final 2½ minutes from Paul Silas to beat the SuperSonics for the sixth time this season. Rod Thorn had 32 for Seattle and Lenny Wilkens had 22 for the Hawks.

Rudy LaRusso scored 40 points, his season high, and a San Diego Sports Arena individual record, in triggering San Francisco's victory over the Rockets. Don Kojis was high for San Diego with 28.

Diehl Leads Southern In Overtime Win

Bob Diehl got five of his 13 points in overtime to lead Southern Local to a 38-35 win over Jefferson Union in a ninth grade basketball game on the losers' floor yesterday.

Kim Needham added 10 for the winners, while Grimm had 15 for JU. The two teams meet again at Southern Monday.

Score By Quarters:

SOUTHERN	12	8	4	7	7	—38
JEFF UNION	7	7	5	12	4	—35

Arbitration A Failure In NCAA-AAU Battle

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A peace between the two battling, major regulatory bodies in amateur athletics has failed to materialize despite a formula devised by a federal sports arbitration board which spent the past 26 months mediating the feud.

Just 5½ hours after the board —headed by labor mediator Theodore Kheel—made its recommendations public, one of the organizations issued a statement saying it would continue to operate as it had in the past.

The board established in its 29-page report three categories of track meets in this country—with varying sanctions. And it proposed a five-year binding arrangement in an effort to settle the dispute between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The NCAA and the AAU have been feuding for the past half century but the battle has become increasingly heated during the past few years. If anything, it has worsened during recent weeks.

The nation's track and field performers, who will carry American prestige into the Olympic Games at Mexico City this fall, are the key issue in the dispute.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said his panel might have to consider legislation to solve the dispute if all the factions involved did not accept the findings of the arbitration board.

Despite the threat, however, the U.S. Track and Field Federation, an arm of the NCAA, issued a statement Thursday night in which it said it "will conduct meets for its members without obtaining AAU sanction."

In its report, the board gave the AAU the sole sanctioning right for all open meets—those involving athletes from other countries and nonstudents.

It gave the USTFF the right to run closed meets, without AAU sanction, as long as they are confined to full-time students.

A third category of meets also was established by the board—open domestic competition. The USTFF could sponsor these meets but would need the sanction of the AAU, which would be automatic if the collegiate federation satisfied all the union's international requirements.

Kheel had said the board would assist during the changeover period in clarifying its ruling but "we are not about to renegotiate this decision."

The Rev. Wilfred Crowley, USTFF president, said he is elated that the board unanimously recognized the need for a single purpose track and field organization but "it is regrettable that the board and the Senate Commerce Committee have failed to pursue what is obviously the only solution to the problem."

The board conceded the ideal situation would be for a single organization to govern the sport, but added it has no hope of this.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said: "After listening to all of the organizations that make up the USTFF, I am convinced that the federation will not accept any decision which restricts the rights of the track and field organizations to conduct bona fide track meets for their own members."

David Matlin, AAU president, said he would not comment until he had read the entire decision.

However, Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, said: "The point that we have been trying to make is that open meets have to be sanctioned by the AAU. The board says that. That's what we've been fighting for."

LETTERMAN. Len Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Len Walker of 237 W. Church Lane, received a varsity football letter from Marietta College this year. The team was honored at a recent basketball game. Walker was a guard on the team that posted a 4-1-1 Ohio Conference mark, the best in 30 years.

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHAMROUSSE, France (AP) — They call them the Chewing Gum Kids. They've been here less than 24 hours and already they're the talk of this village where the Alpine events in the Winter Olympic Games start next week.

"They're not scared of the devil himself," said Bob Beattie, the coach of the U.S. Alpine team.

They are Cathy "Kiki" Cutter of Aspen, Colo., 18, and Judy Nagel, 16, of Enumclaw, Wash., daughter of an Olympic veteran.

Before the Christmas holidays, they had no idea they might be skiing for the United States in the Games, opening here Tuesday. Then injuries beset the American international squad, training in Europe, and Beattie made a hurried trip to the States to look for some help.

"I decided to attend the junior championships," Beattie said.

Teen-agers Kiki and Judy plus Erica Skinger of Stowe, Vt., were told to grab their skis and get to Europe as fast as they could.

Racing in Europe for the first time against such seasoned international stars as Nancy Greene of Canada, Marielle Goitschel of France and Gertraud Gabl, they astouned the experts by finishing among the leaders.

Judy looks like a little girl playing hooky from grade school. She is fresh and talkative. She chews gum constantly.

Asked whether she felt nervous going against the world's most experienced Alpine skiers, Judy shrugged her shoulders and said, "It's just another race."

Downtown Cagers Win In Overtime

John Connell starred as Downtown beat East End 23-17 in overtime in an eighth grade game in the Little Potters League at Westgate last night.

In the sixth and seventh grade division, Glenmoor remained unbeaten with a 21 -3 trouncing of Northside, 1-3. Phil Moffett scored nine. East End remained a step behind at 3-1 with an 18-12 win over Downtown, 0-4. Anthony Williams and Bob Jones had eight each for the winners and George Hanlon seven for the losers.

Wheeling Off Again Today

WHEELING — The races at Wheeling Downs have been called off for Friday, February 2, as the sodden skies add more misery to winter meeting officials.

It was emphasized, however, that racing definitely will resume Saturday with the first race at 1:30 p. m.

Track officials explained that the three days of almost steady rain, coupled with unseasonably warm weather that brought thaw water to the surface, had hampered maintenance crews in getting the track in a fast racing condition.

Muskies Beat Dallas, Within ½ Game Of 1st

By The Associated Press

The game meant about as little as one could, but Kentucky and Houston acted as if it were for a championship.

Houston, in last place in the American Basketball Association's Western Division, beat Kentucky, similarly situated in the Eastern Division, 109-107 Thursday night. And the Mavericks had to fight to the bitter end.

The Colonels outscored them 31-19 in the last period—and 59-43 in the final period—only to bow by the two-point margin.

In other games, Minnesota beat Dallas 116-99 and Oakland downed New Orleans 131-124.

Wilbert Frazier led the scoring for Houston, 16½ games out of first place, with 30 points. Darrel Carrier paced Kentucky, 15½ game out, with 26 points.

Minnesota moved to within a half-game of idle Pittsburgh in the Eastern Division with its victory. Sam Smith led the way for the Muskies with 29 points, 14 in the second quarter. Cincy Powell led the Chaparrals with 18.

Barry Leibowitz, recently acquired by Oakland in a trade with New Jersey, collected seven points in the final two minutes to thwart a New Orleans comeback. Doug Moe topped the Saints with 37 points and Jim Hadnot was high for the Oaks with 30.

Bellamy, Reed Lead Knicks Past Bulls

Cazzie Russell had a night off from his hot shooting and Bill Bradley stayed on the bench most of the time as the New York Knicks' big men took a turn at doing some scoring.

With Walt Bellamy scoring 25 points and Willis Reed scoring 24 and pulling down 21 rebounds, the Knicks beat the Chicago Bulls 112-103 in National Basketball Association action Thursday night.

Russell, a hot shooter of late, scored just five points for the Knicks and Bradley, playing less and less these days, hit on only two free throws as the Knicks led all the way.

In other NBA games, San Francisco beat San Diego 128-114 and St. Louis edged Seattle 113-110.

Bob Boozer topped the Bulls' scorers with 28 points with Flynn Robinson adding 18. The Knicks are now just a half-game out of fourth place in the Eastern Division and one game out of third.

St. Louis got five points in the final 2½ minutes from Paul Silas to beat the SuperSonics for the sixth time this season. Rod Thorn had 32 for Seattle and Lenny Wilkens had 22 for the Hawks.

Rudy LaRusso scored 40 points, his season high, and a San Diego Sports Arena individual record, in triggering San Francisco's victory over the Rockets. Don Kojis was high for San Diego with 28.

Junior Editors Quiz on STEEL

QUESTION: How is steel made?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: To make steel, iron ore is taken from vast deposits, such as those near Lake Superior. The ore is carried by steamer to various plants where iron is extracted from it. This is done in a blast furnace. Ore is loaded in from the top, then coke and limestone are added. A blast of hot air makes the coke burn, which melts the ore while the limestone carries off many impurities. Molten or liquid iron trickles down to the bottom and is drawn off. This may be allowed to harden into bars of pig iron, some of which may be melted down again as cast iron or, in a process using silicate or melted sand, made into wrought iron. But most of the molten iron is used in nearby steel-making furnaces, to produce the tremendously important material steel, which is iron with more impurities taken out and certain substances added. The main picture shows molten iron going into a Bessemer converter, and, after having its final impurities burned out under high pressure, being poured out in the form of molten steel. This is cooled into ingots, later to be used in many ways.

Young Says U.S. Should Pull GIs Out Of Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, says the United States should pull its troops out of Vietnam quickly and that a military victory there "is not attainable."

Young added in a Senate speech Thursday that "for all practical purposes the South Vietnamese army has ceased to fight."

The senator, who recently toured Southeast Asia, said animosity toward Americans is being increased by bombing, defoliation, and incessant fighting in Vietnam.

"We should extricate ourselves at the earliest possible moment that we can achieve a cease-fire and disengagement," he declared.
